GOVERNOR SMITH BACKERS SEEK FIRST BALLOT WIN

Rogers Is Afraid He'll Lose Place As Favorite Son

(Special To The News)

CLAREMORE, Okla., June 20.—Andy Payne, the foot racer, has just come home and Claremore has given him a big welcome.

I had to rush home to protect my own interest. I am about to lose my favorite son standing.

I just had a talk with Andy. He is a fine, modest young kid. He promised to run out to California and see me some time.

I see where Gov. Ritchie of Maryland withdrew. There is your real legitimate vice president. If they nominate a dry vice president, the Democrats will maintain their comedy reputation.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Federal prohibition enforcement officer of this district, John W. Pennington is scheduled to be in New Castle tomorrow. He will speak at a banquet event at the First Christian church.

Attitude of the public on the matter of the municipal conduit as reported by city councilmen shows what a difference a few years will make. According to old timers, the municipal conduit system was a burning question twenty-five years ago. It was the cause of long controversies in the city council for several years. According to the present city council there is little expression of opinion on the part of citizens as to whether or not the system should be sold to the Bell Company. A decision in the matter is being asked by the Bell Company.

The New Castle News in its various departments has been remembered in a most fitting manner during the past few days by various W. C. T. U. organizations. Bouquets of flowers have been left at The News as a part of the annual celebration of flower day by these organizations. Pa Newc expresses appreciation of the force.

Arrangements are being made for a public benefit dance at the cathedral on July 2, for the benefit of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the new Jameson Memorial hospital. Funds realized will be used for furnishing supplies for the new hospital. Indications are that some thousands of local citizens will share in the success of this event.

These are the times that try men's souls. It was Monday evening, early, when one gay young blade, by his own confession, stepped out in his newest straw. Today that same straw looks like something the cat has played with, and the g. y. b. is seriously considering taking up a collection among his friends to replace it. No, certainly the past few days have not been perfect straw hat weather.

Anent elevator men and boys and their troubles, several friends who have their ups and downs every day have one complaint to lodge, and if they were organized, they would place it in the form of a petition to city council. And that is against the pernicious habit that some people have of believing that an elevator boy or man is also something of a mind reader. When these people get on the car, the boys say and Pa Newc bears witness, they do not say a thing, but are content to ride to the topmost floor, while they make up their minds as to where they want to get off. This, boys say, takes time, and to an elevator boy, time is precious.

A change in the policy of the Scottish Rite cathedral auditorium will come about in the fall, states Herbert Peairs, the manager. At the cathedral, they plan only to show pictures which have played to record crowds in the big cities.

People who live in the neighborhood of West Garfield avenue are incensed because of the heavy blasting which has been going on in their territory. Contractors were digging a sewer ditch, and they came upon some very large rocks. Nothing daunted them, and so, drilling holes, they dynamited. Huge rocks, weighing almost a ton, the residents say,

Governor Smith's Selection On First Ballot At Houston Aim Of Backers

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOUSTON, Tex., June 20.—Confident that Gov. Al Smith will be the Democratic party's choice for the presidential nomination at the national convention which gets under way next week, the forces behind the New York executive today were mapping a drive which they hope will bring him victory on the first ballot.

Details of this drive will be worked out as soon as George R. Van Namee, generalissimo of the Smith forces, arrives here some time late today.

Although the convention is nearly a week away, the Smith people intend to buckle down to hard work immediately. They want to get this city so filled with Smith enthusiasm that when the delegates arrive on the scene early next week they will get the impression that all that they will have to do is to have a good time, listen to the reading of a short program, vote for Al Smith and then go home.

Would Help Campaign

For several weeks Gov. Smith's backers, particularly those from New York, have contended that he will be nominated on an early ballot. Now they want to put him across on the

JAMESON HOSPITAL AUXILIARY PLANS FOR PUBLIC BENEFIT

Plans have been made for a public benefit dance on a large scale, to be held in the Scottish Rite cathedral on the evening of Monday, July 2, it is announced today.

The affair will be conducted as a benefit by the ladies' auxiliary of the new Jameson Memorial hospital, for the purpose of raising funds for the work of the auxiliary, namely, furnishing supplies for the new institution.

Tickets for the dance will be sold at $1 each, so that the benefit will cost each couple $2. Tickets will be on sale generally throughout the city, at once, and it is indicated that some thousands of them will be sold.

Arrangements are being made for the services of two local orchestras at the dance, and provision is also to be made for cards and other entertainment for those who do not care to dance.

The Jameson Hospital auxiliary was organized several weeks ago, and has already taken up energetically the work of getting ready for the opening of the new hospital. This benefit dance is one of the features planned as a means of aiding the work, and a generous response from the public is anticipated.

Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson has been named as chairman of arrangements for the benefit dance on July 2 and a list of the various aiding committees will be announced soon.

This is a community service in which all can join. Do your bit to aid in making this benefit the success it deserves to be.

CONTINUE TO HONOR AMERICAN GIRL FLIER

Miss Earhart Goes Shopping

Many Honors Being Heaped Upon Woman Flier By People Of England

TO BE RECEIVED BY KING AND QUEEN

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 20.—With the cheers of all England still ringing in her ears, Miss Amelia Earhart, the first woman to fly across the Atlantic, indulged in an orgy of shopping today, if the many social functions prepared for her will permit.

Miss Earhart and her flying companions, Wilmer Stultz and Lou Gordon arrived here last evening from Southampton in motor cars.

The latest heroine of aviation was still clad in her flying togs when she arrived at Hyde Park hotel. A throng of admirers, many of them fashionably gowned society women who had just returned from the races at Ascot, almost overwhelmed her.

Presented With Airplane Model

She was presented with a model airplane made entirely of violets and roses. Fatigued by her trip from Southampton and her previous flight to that port, South Wales, the aviatrix retired to her room as soon as she could get away from her admirers.

It is probable that Miss Earhart and her companions will be presented to the King and Queen of England some time today.

Throughout all the wild acclaim accorded her here and at Southampton, Miss Earhart was blushingly modest, resembling in demeanor, just as she does in facial contour, America's greatest flier, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

New York, June 20.—Miss Amelia Earhart, Wilmer Stultz and Lou Gordon, crew of the trans-Atlantic plane Friendship, will leave Europe a week from today and will arrive here on July 4, according to an announcement by George Palmer Putnam, their New York representative. From New York the fliers will go to Boston, he indicated.

Many Ovations

This was a day of continual ovations in London for the American heroine of the skies. Miss Earhart, for the time being, forgot aviation and turned her attention to fashionable gowns, Parisian hats and chic shoes.

Tired out by the long flight and the two tumultuous greetings, accorded her and her two companions in the trans-ocean monoplane Friendship at Southampton and London, the comely young American aviatrix slept late.

As was the case with Col. Lindbergh when he flew to Paris, her wardrobe was limited to the clothing she wore upon the flight. When

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Steps to prevent the use of a huge slush fund, and whisper campaigns during the coming presidential race were taken today by the senate campaign expenditures committee, headed by Senator Steiwer, R., of Oregon, chairman.

The committee, which inquired into pre-convention campaign expenses of all presidential candidates, now that one nomination is determined and another slated to be settled soon, was cleaning up loose ends of its old investigations and preparing to keep close watch on political activities of the future.

Immediate Effort To Fly Across Atlantic Is Abandoned By "Queen Of Diamonds"

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., June 20.—As soon as the weather permits, Miss Mabel Boll, Captain Oliver Le Boutillier and Captain Arthur Argles will fly back to New York in the trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia to decide what their future plans will be.

Weather forecasts today indicated that the New York flight probably would not be attempted until tomorrow. Back in New York, the fliers will consult Charles A. Levine, owner of the Columbia, as to the advisability of shipping the plane to France for a westward flight to America. They are also contemplating flying to Europe and then back.

AWAIT ARRIVAL OF JAMES W. GOOD

Out-And-Out Hoover Man May Not Be Selected For This Post

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 20.—On the eve of the election of the new Republican national chairman to succeed William E. Butler of Massachusetts there were developments of usual interest today which suggested the possibility of a dark horse for the post.

To Meet Hoover

A part of the G. O. P. committee will meet Secretary Hoover, the presidential nominee, at a luncheon at the Willard Hotel tomorrow. At that time Hoover will impart to the committee his candidate for the post and the nomination will be ratified thereupon.

Hoover, Secretary Work, Senator Curtis, the vice presidential nominee, and others were conferring today on the all-important chairmanship, but awaiting the arrival of James W. Good of Iowa, before coming to a definite determination.

There were two possibilities—that an out-and-out Hoover man will be chairman, or that this honor will be conferred upon one of the disgruntled as a matter of political expediency.

Place Important

Observers pointed out that the chairmanship is unusually important to Hoover because he will be a candidate for the presidency again in 1932. This point was made clear by Senator Moses, chairman of the convention, in these words:

"The leadership we shall here set up will assure to the country a Republican ascendancy which will endure for eight years."

Should the chairmanship be awarded as a matter of temporary political expediency, there is little doubt but

Elisco testified that on three occasions previous to the morning of the shooting, he had had trouble with Di Rauso. On the evening of November 19, 1927 Elisco said that his employer had asked him to collect some bills. He had secured the bills and also a revolver, taking the latter as a protection in view of the fact that he was going to collect some money.

Annual Meeting Of Almira Home

Representatives From Four Counties Gather At Home On Tuesday

EXCELLENT YEAR'S WORK IS REPORTED

With the institution in better shape than it has been since its organization, the directors of the Almira Home, 40 in number, met Tuesday afternoon in the Home for the annual meeting. Officers directors and trustees were elected, the resignation of the present matron accepted, a new matron elected, and plans made for an increase of $10,000.00 in the endowment fund to be secured by this time next year.

Nothing was missed in the annual inspection of the board. The building was scrutinized from top to bottom, the condition of equipment and furniture noted, the books audited, and the grounds viewed, and after finishing the work the board was unanimous in the opinion that the Almira Home had never been in such splendid shape since its organization.

Re-elect Officers.

With such a year of achievement back of the home such as has been the year just closed, it was but natural that the same officers should be elected. In the re-election of the president, Mrs. J. L. Stratton for the eighth time, a glowing tribute to her energy, her ability, and her leadership was paid. She has devoted her time and labor unstintingly to the end that the Almira Home should prosper and its florishing condition is a reflection of her work. Mrs. J. Ward Reis was again elected as president-emeritus. Other officers elected are: first vice-president, Mrs. Roy W. Hazen; second vice-president, Mrs. H. C. Harper; treasurer, Mrs. Carrie E. Agnew; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. E. Trainor; recording secretary, Mrs. B. F. Butler.

With these officers, the following women form the board of directors: Mrs. George A. Rigby, Mrs. R. G. Maxwell, Mrs. W. A. Stritmater, Mrs. J. C. McCready, Mrs. J. H. Frew, Miss Maude B. Fisher. The advisory board consists of Senator George T. Weingartner, B. F. Butler, Fred L. Rentz, Attorney H. K. Gregory, A. Crawford Hoyt, Attorney F. A. Hover.

Trustees Re-elected.

Trustees from each of the counties participating in the Almira Home were also re-elected. These trustees are divided as follows: from Lawrence county, 13; from Butler county, 9; from Mercer county, 9; from Venango county, 9.

Freight Cars Are Derailed

Tie-Up Occurs On Stoneboro Branch Of Pennsy During Morning

EXPECT TRAFFIC TO BE NORMAL TONIGHT

Traffic was tied up this morning for several hours on the Stoneboro branch of the Pennsylvania railroad when three cars of a freight train became derailed and the track was torn up for several rods about one-half mile east of Leesburg station.

Bessemer train No. 405 from New Castle to Stoneboro, being unable to proceed via Leesburg, was detoured via West Side station to Shenango over the Erie and Pittsburgh route, and then to Mercer Junction over the Bessemer railroad. It was thought that the track would be cleared and repaired by the time the afternoon train returns from Stoneboro.

The train derailed was a freight of 61 cars loaded with coal and coke and drawn by two engines. Three cars near the rear end for some cause jumped the track and 15 rails were loosened by the derailed cars. No one was injured and the damage was slight. The work train was sent at once and it was thought that the track would be in service again within a few hours at the most.

Amelia Earhart To Talk With Mother Via Ocean Phone

MEDFORD, Mass., June 20.—"Lady Lindy's" mother, Mrs. Amy Otis Earhart, has no telephone in her humble elm-arched home here, but just the same she's going to get a long distance phone call from her famed daughter in London today.

Mrs. C. Panetta, who lives in the apartment below the Earhart's here, has volunteered the services of her phone so that "Lady Lindy" may talk with her mother and sister.

Mrs. Panetta and all the little Pannettas are anxiously awaiting the ting-a-ling of that phone bell, so that they can call Mrs. Earhart.

Amundsen And French Flier Hopped Off From Norway Monday

(Bulletin)
(International News Service)

LONDON, June 20.—The French seaplane of Rene Guilbaud and Capt. Roald Amundsen, which hopped off at Tromsoe, Norway, on Monday to search for the Nobile expedition, has been forced down in the polar sea and has wirelessed an urgent appeal for aid, according to a Central News dispatch from Berlin this afternoon.

No definite news had been received of the Guilbaud-Amundsen plane since its hop-off, although it was reported to have been sighted over Green Harbor en route for King's Bay, Spitzbergen.

In the absence of any definite news from Amundsen it had been assumed that he had decided not to stop at King's Bay to refuel, but would continue over the ice fields off the northern coast of Spitzbergen to search for the Nobile party.

A dispatch from Rome this afternoon said belief was growing there that adverse weather conditions had compelled the seaplane to put in at some remote part of northern Norway before again attempting the hop to King's Bay.

Muddy Runway Is Hampering Flight Of German Girl

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 20.—Curtiss Field's runway was a stretch of mud today, making it out of the question for Thea Rasche, the flying German fraulein, to take off for Old Orchard, Me., on the first lap of her projected trans-Atlantic flight.

She desires to be the first of her sex to handle the controls of a plane that conquers the ocean, now that Amelia Earhart has won the honor of being the first woman to cross as a passenger.

Thea passed the night aboard the yacht of Mrs. James A. Stillman on Long Island Sound, off Glen Cove. The North Star, mammoth Bellanca monoplane originally constructed for A. R. Martine, was bought for the German girl by Mrs. Stillman.

When drying of the field permits Mrs. Stillman and a party of friends intend to follow the alien aviatrix to Old Orchard in another plane. They will assist in final tests of the North Star and witness Thea's departure.

DEMOCRATS SEEK RUNNINGMATE TO GOVERNOR SMITH

very first ballot, not only because of the effect they believe it would have on the Democratic party, but because they feel it would go a long ways toward helping Smith on next election day.

So convinced are Smith's managers that he will be nominated that they are already casting about for a runningmate for the New York executive. It seems to be the prevailing opinion among the Smith forces that Cordell Hull of Tennessee is just the man for second place on the ticket, although most anything may happen before the actual balloting begins which could bring about a change in this situation.

Some Opposition

The Smith people realize that there is some strong opposition to the New York governor in several of the southern states, but they have a feeling that this will be gradually ironed out before the first roll call is taken. Should this continue, however, it seems fairly certain that the Smith people may throw their strength to Hull for vice president as the best means of cementing the feeling between the northern and southern Democracy.

Norman E. Mack of Buffalo, national committeeman; George C. Norton, New York attorney, and Howard Culman of the Newport Authority are scheduled to arrive with Van Namee. A score of rooms at the Rice Hotel will be opened immediately as Smith's headquarters and the drive to put the New York governor over on the first ballot will be formally launched.

Houston is disappointed that Governor Smith will not personally attend the big show. From the conversation heard on the streets and in the hotels it is evident that the average Texan would like to get a look at the man who has smashed all gubernatorial records in the Empire State.

she appeared in the hotel dining room for breakfast she wore a borrowed crepe de chine gown of flowered material.

To Visit Airdrome

The day's program included an informal luncheon given by Mrs. Frederick E. Guest, wealthy patroness of the Friendship's flight, for Miss Earhart, Pilot Stultz and Mechanician Gordon, and a shopping tour.

Miss Earhart said if she had time she wanted to visit Croydon Airdrome late in the day. It is there that the great commercial lines radiating out of England to the continent coverage.

This evening Miss Earhart will attend a dinner at the home of Mrs. Guest, later going to a dance at the Embassy Club.

While it was learned that Miss Earhart would be received by the King and Queen, the "official" program of her visit did not include this event. She will be the guest of Mrs. Alanson B. Houghton, wife of the United States Ambassador, on June 23, and two days later will be honor guest at a luncheon given by Lady Heath in behalf of British women flyers.

Boosts Pilots

Although Miss Earhart gave full credit for the success of the flight to Pilot Wilmer Stultz and Mechanician Louis Gordon, the two male members of the Friendship's crew were put into the background by the repeated ovations and honors heaped upon the American girl. This did not please Miss Earhart at all. In her opinion "Bill" Stultz and "Slim" Gordon should have equal recognition.

Hundreds of messages of congratulation poured into the Hyde Park hotel from the United States for Miss Earhart. She laughingly admitted that two of them contained proposals of marriage. However, the Boston girl is already engaged, according to news from America.

Miss Earhart was beseiged by English and American newspaper correspondents.

"I intend to do some flying here," she told the reporters. I am keenly interested in every aspect of aviation and I want to study European methods to see how they compare with Americans. I am especially interested in the small type of plane known as the moth. It is possible that I may make a flying tour of the United States when I return home, but that is indefinite.

that the appointee would resign within a short time after the election to accept a cabinet job or an ambassadorship in the event of Republican victory.

This would pave the way for the appointment of a man like Dr. Work, in the inner Hoover circles, to the chairmanship to erect an efficient political machine to keep Hoover in office for another four years, and likewise pay off some pre-election debt of the Hoover forces.

Some Suggested

Several names are suggested and in spite of the rumors of a dark horse, Good and Dr. Work are still leaders. Roy West, secretary of the national committee; David W. Mulvane of Kansas, Walter F. Brown, assistant secretary of commerce; Franklin Fort of New Jersey and Chairman Butler are mentioned as possibilities.

It appeared probable today that Hoover might have a campaign committee to guide his political ship instead of an individual manager and that a national chairman from the East, who would maintain his headquarters in New York, with an assistant chairman in Chicago or some other mid-western city, to boss that phase of the campaign might be recommended.

Friends of Hoover expressed the opinion that the notification speech would be made in Palo Alto, Calif. For many years it has been customary for the candidate to be notified at his home. It likewise was pointed out that there is an immense publicity value to travel. To go to Palo Alto would mean that Hoover would cross the United Stataes twice and millions would "get a look at him".

ELISCO CLAIMS HE FIRED SHOT TO SAVE SELF

Joe Paglia informed them that he had some wine at his house, and asked them to come up and help drink it. As they were about to start, Elisco said that Di Rauso learned where they were going and wanted to go along. Elisco told him that Paglia did not want a big crowd at his house. Di Rauso insisted in accompanying them and was permitted to go.

Got In Front Seat.

Di Rauso got in the front seat with Elisco in the latter's car. Sam Lambiaso and Dominick Fattura got into the back seat and they drove to Paglia's. Paglia had gone on ahead.

While they were drinking at Paglia's Di Rauso sang what is known as the "Lemon Song". This is a song which is interpreted to mean that the singer is looking for trouble with some one. They remained at Paglia's until about 12:30, when Elisco asked them to go over to his home as he had a sick baby. On the way over witness said that Di Rauso, who was in the front seat with him, caught hold of his coat collar several times. At Elisco's the witness said that Lambiaso had told him to watch Di Rauso as he was going to kill him.

Elisco asked Lambiaso why he thought so, and Lambiaso replied, "didn't he pull your coat collar several times on the way over here."

Later Elisco and Di Rauso had some words, but one of the others told Di Rauso to shut up, that this was no way to act in a friend's house.

Elisco made some coffee for his guests. Into the coffee was poured annisette. It was when Di Rauso thought that he did not get as much annisette as the others that he had the words with Elisco. The latter told Di Rauso to pour his own annisette.

Leaving Elisco's the party drove to Lambiaso's where they had a quart of wine. After drinking it they went to another house but failed to arouse anybody. They then started driving about the streets in the lower end of the city, pulling up on Jefferson St. shortly after 7 o'clock.

Fattura, after getting out of the car, started down an alley. Lambiaso got out and then Di Rauso. "I was glad to see them all out of the car," continued Elisco, "as I wanted to go home. Di Rauso asked me if I was not going to get out of the car. I told him that I was not as I wanted to go home. He reached over, caught me by the collar and pulled me out of the car. We had a scuffle and Lambiaso interfered and was knocked down. Di Rauso then drew a gun on me. As he raised it to shoot, I grabbed hold of his wrist and forced his hand up. At the same time I pulled my gun and shot him in the stomach. I picked up his gun. He said, "Don't kill me." Lambiaso had gone. I took Di Rauso's gun and drove away. I was badly frightened and did not know what to do.

Gives Gun Away.

I wrapped my gun and Di Rauso's gun up and went to the home of Ralph Granada. I gave him the package containing the guns and told him to keep it for me. I then went to Pittsburgh and from there to New York city. I did not know that Di Rauso had died until about fifteen days later. I received the news in a letter from home, having written to ask about the case."

Elisco was asked if he knew the reputation of Di Rauso. He replied that he did and that it was bad.

In behalf of the Commonwealth Sam Lambiaso testified yesterday afternoon that when he and Di Rauso got out of the car on South Jefferson street Di Rauso had called Elisco a bad name and they had a scuffle. Witness attempted to separate them but was knocked down by Elisco. It was while he was down that the shooting occurred and the witness did not actually see it.

City Detective Creighton G. Logan testified that he and other officers had secured a dying statement from Di Rauso at the New Castle hospital and that Di Rauso averred in the statement that Elisco had shot him. Di Rauso had been told that he was going to die before the statement had been made.

The case is still on trial.

It is a frank speaking of the truth that causes fights among men. Women fight very little.

New Castle Lady Restored To New Health And Vigor

Miseries Of Kidney Trouble And Sluggish Liver Ended By New Konjola Medicine.

MRS. ANNA SPANISH
Seavy Photo

Health is the greatest asset we can possess. Without it life is uninteresting and we never seem to attain the utmost happiness we all strive so hard to acquire. Many of us go on from year to year with that half-sick feeling that comes from a rundown and disordered inner-system; complaining of aches and pains and remarking about the tired, drowsy feeling that comes over us so often. Since the introduction of the new Konjola medicine, many thousands of people throughout the Central States and Middle West have voluntarily offered strong words of praise for Konjola and hundreds of men and women have given their signed statements to the Konjola Man at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, this city, telling of the wonderful benefits they derived from this celebrated compound.

One of the latest to describe the new health received from Konjola is Mrs. Anna Spanish, Moore street, South New Castle Borough.

"I had been a sufferer for many years", said Mrs. Spanish, "first trying one thing and then another, before I ever knew there was a medicine like Konjola. But now since I have taken this compound it has ended all my troubles and restored new health to me.

"My whole system was badly rundown and most of my miseries were caused by a sluggish liver and disordered kidneys. These ailments gave me untold trouble and no matter what I took for relief, I continued to suffer. I think that these troubles were brought on by poisons and impurities in my blood. It never seemed to circulate in the proper manner and a peculiar numbness in my limbs was caused by the condition. Because of bladder [illegible] I had to rise several times [illegible] night and when I got up the [illegible] the first thing that I [illegible] be a terrific pain in [illegible] my back that was almost [illegible]. Finally I got so [illegible] of the time and rest [illegible] noise would upset [illegible] ere pimples and skin eruptions on my face and body and in spite of everything that I did to correct this, they always came back.

"A friend of mine had been taking Konjola and has received amazing results from it. He advised me to give it a trial and so I started on the treatment. Before the first bottle was gone I began to feel better and I knew that this was the medicine for my case. My kidneys got stronger and now, I don't have to get up a single time during the night. Every ache and pain caused by them have been banished and I know that that ailment is permanently ended. Then Konjola regulated my liver and cleansed the poisons from my blood. Since Konjola did this the embarrassing skin eruptions have been cleared from my face and body. I have only taken four bottles of this medicine and yet, my health has improved one hundred percent. I am never nervous and my sleep is sound and refreshing.

"Konjola certainly is a wonderful medicine and I want to say once more that I am only too glad to indorse it to others".

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

MISS EARHART—SEX EQUALITY

MISS AMELIA EARHART, a social welfare worker of Boston, has gratified her ambition to be the first woman to fly across the Atlantic.

It appears to have been the consuming ambition of her life, for before leaving for Newfoundland on the first leg of her journey she remarked in a letter to her sister that she would even be glad to pop off in the midst of such an adventure if fate willed it that way.

Everybody will be glad that she did not pop off but lives to tell the tale and to enjoy such fame and material profits as may accrue from her successful accomplishment of a daring undertaking.

The experience of Ruth Elder, who did not get all the way across by air, indicates that Miss Earhart may reap something of a harvest after she returns to her native shores. Probably she will not resume her social welfare labors.

Miss Earhart, who is a finely educated young woman, has been a licensed airplane pilot since 1923 but on this trip she was accompanied by two experienced airmen, Wilmer Stultz, pilot, and Lou Gordon, mechanic. She planned to act as relief pilot.

But Messrs. Stultz and Gordon were not the first men to cross the Atlantic by air and probably will receive little of the popular glory. It must be somewhat discouraging to the earnest feminists who argue the possibility of complete sex equality. If it existed or could exist, there would be no special glory in being the first woman to do a thing. The first human being to do it would bring home all the bacon.

SENATOR McNARY'S CONCESSION

SENATOR McNARY, after a conference with Mr. Hoover, declares that he is willing to let the controversial equalization fee feature of the McNary-Haugen farm relief program go, for the present at least, and expresses the belief that the enactment of legislation in accordance with the agricultural plank of the Republican platform will prove satisfactory to farmers.

In other words, Senator McNary is going to be regular in this campaign and reasonably hopeful. Congressman Haugen is not ready to go along with his old side-partner, holding that the equalization fee is vital to effective farm relief legislation, but the fact that one member of this famous team has surrendered on the crucial point is a matter of considerable political significance. He hardly would have done so if the farmers of the West were in actual revolt against the Republican ticket and platform.

There is still talk of the organization of a third party to attract the votes of disaffected farmers but the chances are, we imagine, that nothing will come of it. The agricultural resentment against the president's veto of the McNary-Haugen bill and the Republican convention's approval of it is probably not widespread or deep-seated enough for that. Nor do we believe that the Democrats will carry the farm belt states, in most of which for some years the Democratic party has been extraordinarily weak.

The great battlegrounds in this campaign, if Gov. Smith is the Democratic nominee, will be the East and a few populous states of the Middle West. It is not likely that the Democratic strategists are counting much on the farm belt. Gov. Smith's hope, above Mason and Dixon's line, is in the cities.

BURNED FINGERS

MANY persons will regard with indifference the recent convulsions which have seized the stock market sending prices plunging. To them the market is a highly refined form of gambling and if fingers are burned in the process, the victims will be allowed to nurse their hurts without interference.

Of course not all transactions on the exchange are of a gambling nature but many of them are. It is probably this factor which is more responsible than anything else for the breaks which have dissipated millions of paper profits. Financial writers seem to agree that the market was due for just such a drenching as has come to it, that prices were "bulled" far above justifiable levels and that necessarily there had to be reaction.

Persons who "play" the market instead of using it for the sale and purchase of stocks must realize again the hazards of the game they play. It is a risky, pesky avocation and is subject to just the sort of flare-backs which are on the pages of the newspapers these days.

No person seems to think that the effect on the substantial business interests of the country will be serious. If that is the case, the stock market's contortions become mainly a matter of entertainment to the lambs that keep away from the shears.

Scrapping, however, will not make the matrimonial seas safe.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:33. Sun rises tomorrow 4:28.

Men get much happiness out of hard work. You cannot get happiness out of standing on the street corners knocking or sitting in a pool room half asleep.

DALE QUITS POLITICS

George R. Dale, militant editor of the Muncie (Ind.) Post-Democrat, who was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Indiana in the recent primary, and received only ten votes in the state convention last week, declared that "editors have no business running for office", and that he is a "flat tire" as a candidate, in a signed article June 8.

A murderer in Pittsburgh agreed to plead guilty to murder in the second degree but the prosecuting attorney refused to take the plea. After the jury got through with the case it acquitted him. The judge made a speech about juries not doing their duty in court cases and allowing sympathy to interfere with justice. There does seem to be something wrong in most cases and there is no doubt of it in this case.

THOROUGHBREDS

When we say a man or a woman is a thoroughbred, we pay him or her the greatest compliment of which we are capable. . . .

The keeper of a stock farm will tell you that a thoroughbred never whirrs. . . . .

He never complains. He keeps his troubles to himself, having discovered, as thoroughbreds do, that to tell troubles is to multiply them, and to look them in the breast is to diminish and finally end them. He never talks about what Fate has done to him. He knows he is master of his own destiny. He never bewails the treatment he has received from another, for he knows no one can do him lasting harm except himself.

Still, a man can hate bribery and the corruption of officials without being a darned wet who wants the saloons back.

Anyway, these beat the times when a woman who looked happy and healthy was suspected of not being a dutiful wife.

Another American Girl.
The Stratosphere Plane.
Strange Sign of Love.
Other Days, Other Greece.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Amelia Earhart lands in Wales, after twenty-one hours' flight across the Atlantic.

Her courageous exploit is doubly welcome. It shows what American girls can do, and will make it unnecessary for other American girls to risk their lives, the thing having now been done.

In Germany engineers of highest rank are engaged on a 'stratosphere airplane" to climb ten miles. In that rarified air of slight resistance it is hoped to attain a speed of 400 miles an hour.

From Berlin to New York in five hours is the German plan. And many that read this will see it realized.

The German Experimental Institute of Aviation, with the German government behind it and every important scientist in Germany cooperating, indorses the stratosphere plane, in which passengers will travel hermetically sealed, breathing artificially made atmosphere above the zone of natural oxygen.

An endurance exhibition of dancing in New York, almost as bad as the cruel foot race across the continent, interests the public so mildly that the exhibition probably will not be repeated.

Dancers drop from fatigue, and one young man, who will marry his dancing partner when it is over, says "If I am able to carry her around the room night and day for a week without wanting to kick her in the face, it must be love."

There are many grades of romance. The Fijian savage used to knock out his wife's upper front teeth on the wedding day.

When ten men strike on the West Side of Chicago, "Moscow is responsible."

Workers in old Greek days were slaves. And in Sparta, those slaves, "helots," going to their work at sunrise, were often surprised and murdered by young Spartans as part of the latter's training for war.

New York says Chicago sent gangsters that "put over" a daring open-air murder on Sunday afternoon. E. J. Jerge, alias Edward Carter, stopped his car when the red light flashed at a busy New York corner.

Bandits that had trailed him jumped from their car, shot three bullets into his head, neck and lung, and then "made their get-away," after opening the car door and firing a few more bullets to make sure.

The Rev. Thomas Whelpley, who tried driving a New York taxicab between Sunday sermons to test the city's morality, calls New York "Gotham, the Godless." He says the only commandment New York knows is "don't get caught." Even that is an improvement. In Sodom, Gomorrah and Ancient Rome, they didn't care whether they got caught or not.

Not wanting to be caught is the dawn of conscience, just as a jellyfish shrinking from the touch represents the dawn of consciousness.

The Way OF THE World

WOMEN ARE RESPONSIBLE

"Women do their own thinking and directing, and they alone are responsible for their own progressive movements." These are the words of a member of the national executive board of the Y. W. C. A.—Miss Mary Preston.

The fact is that women have not yet been in possession of their political and citizenship rights quite long enough to take their places side by side with men. Both in court and out of court many of them still think themselves entitled to various kinds of special exemptions. Getting rights should mean more than taking privileges. It should mean assuming all the responsibilities.

LUCK IN WRITING

The career of Trader Horn in literature illustrates the fact that a great deal of one's success is luck.

Here is a man that comes out of the wilds and writes a book. He is seventy-three years of age and has never written before. As near as I can tell, the judgment of a man up a tree is about what Dr. Johnson said about a woman preaching. "Sir," he said, "a woman preaching is like a dog standing on its hind legs. It is not well done, but you are surprised to find it done at all."

Trader Horn's wonderful vogue is surprising. That a man should come into the back door of literature and achieve such a remarkable popularity is no less than amazing. Of course, opinions may differ as to the value of his writing. John Galsworthy seems to think it is fine. I have read it pretty carefully myself, but I fail to see anything in his adventures or in his philosophy except the commonplace.

That does not mean that his success is not remarkable. I couldn't see anything in Talmadge's preaching, either, and I never was much infatuated with Billy Sunday or Aimee McPherson. But I take my hat off to these people just the same. They put it over.

I bow to any one who succeeds.

How he does it often is a mystery to me, but if he does, that is enough.

Some one has said that no one would attempt to carve a statue or paint a picture or play the piano without first taking a few lessons, but everybody thinks he can write a book if he only sets his mind to it.

Take it from a man who is in the writing business, and believe me, that writing is a trade. You have to practice at it quite awhile in order to succeed and put out passable stuff.

When a man has flown to the North Pole or lived in the jungles of Africa or sat on a flag pole for six days or done some other remarkable feat, he writes a book about it and people buy it. It may be interesting, but it is not literature.

The man who sits in a back room in Grub Street and plugs away at it every day is much more likely to pass out readable stuff.

You can no more write well without practice than you can lay good brick without practice.

THE DELIVERER—Quicken me, O Lord, for thy name's sake: for thy righteousness' sake bring my soul out of trouble.—Pslam 143:11.

PRAYER — Deliver us, our God, from evil.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HARNESS THE COLORADO.

There is no set of citizens of the Republic which has as little knowledge of the things existing beyond the boundaries of the original Thirteen States than the class which lives in the cities upon the Atlantic Seaboard and which looks always Eastward to London, Paris and Rome.

Among this set are certain financial writers who strenuously oppose the building of the Boulder Dam in the Colorado River by the United States Government.

Usually, the Wall Street Journal is very intelligent in its criticism, but the following appearing in its leading editorial of June 11th, shows that the writer has never seen the Colorado River below, Needles, Arizona, in the month of June.

"It is to be assumed that when the municipal ownership ring in Los Angeles combines with certain exploiters of the Imperial Valley to foist the Boulder Dam project on the taxpayer, in order to provide Los Angeles with an immensely costly power plant at the national expense and an all-American canal from the Colorado River for the benefit of Imperial Valley interests, it is not indulging in propaganda, although many times more money has been spent on promotion and publicity than could be laid at the door of the alleged 'trust power.'"

The Colorado went upon its usual June rampage this year. On the afternoon of June 14th, the new Blythe (Calif.) Bridge went out. It cost $1,500,000. At Yuma, Arizona, it was estimated 100,000 feet of water was passing each second. That tremendous flood is the proposition back of the Boulder Dam.

If the building of that Dam did not involve Interstate Commerce questions, there would be no necessity for the Federal Government doing a single thing. If the River was a California River, the Southern California Edison Company would be glad to spend a couple of hundred million dollars and three or four hundred million, if necessary, to harness this great stream and use its water and power for the benefit of not only Los Angeles and the Imperial Valley, but for the benefit of the people of the seven states claiming an interest in the water of the River.

Things are as they are and the Boulder Dam must be built soon if a great Disaster is to be averted to say nothing of the wealth which would be created by the building thereof. The United States Government can take the bull by the horns and build the Dam and tell the warring states to "go to" and behave themselves.

Los Angeles and the Imperial Valley will contain only a very small part of those whose wealth will be increased by the Building of the Boulder Dam.

AN OFFICER GIVES A MAN THE SLIP

I was pursued
By a tyrant in blue
Whose manner was rude,
Spite of all I could do,
And my gracefulest mood
And the people I knew
And the smile on my lip,
Still he gave me the slip.

Not for driving too fast
But for crossing a line,
Which I shouldn't have passed
In that motor of mine,
And he caught me at last
And I stopped at his sign,
I was held in his grip,
But he gave me the slip.

I offered amends
In a courteous way,
I talked of his friend
And the news of the day
As one who intends
To be merry and gay,
But he frowned at each quip,
And he gave me the slip.

Though it does seem absurd
For the captive to say
When the catch has occurred
And he can't get away,
And to court he is whirred
With an order to pay,
As some cutthroat or dip:
Still, he gave me the slip.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

ALL IS VANITY

The Preacher said, "Vanity of vanities! All is vanity." Or maybe it was something else the Preacher said. But it was in that general direction.

Well, since my experience at the Kansas City convention (and other similar conventions in years past) I have reached the conclusion that the Preacher must have been a regular attendant at national political conventions. Perhaps he was a professional delegate.

The vanity of men has long been an insoluble riddle to me. The old favorite poem, "O Why Should the Spirit of Mortal Be Proud!" has some good sense in it, even if it isn't sophisticated.

A national convention is an expression of human vanity. Elections could be carried out without conventions, but the big shows are worth their cost to those who get the kick out of them.

The men who make the speeches are amply repaid for whatever expense and trouble the listeners may have undergone in order to make their speaking possible. They feel that they are making history when they speak before the convention and the microphones. They look serious, feel serious, and take a serious picture. Their hearts lean into their throats when the flashlights explode or the klieg lights shine full upon them. You can read their thoughts in those high moments. They go right on speaking automatically the words they have been rehearsing up in the attic at home for the last three months. And they are thinking, "Heavens, how important I am! I am making history! My descendants will brag about this moment of time! Historians will write volumes about it. The home town will go crazy, and I'll get even with those snooty Morgans, who wouldn't invite my wife to their last bridge!"

Vanity, vanity, and all is vanity! Who knows the name of the fellow who placed Lincoln's name in nomination? Who knows the names of two important personages who spoke at the Kansas City convention?

Descendants? Why, our descendants will have something else to think about, I hope. But the vanity of man is perennial. Not only the speakers are vain and befooled. I have seen expression of supernal vanity passing over the faces of persons in prominent seats at these conventions, especially when photographs are taken. They are thinking, "I'm making history. I'm part of this."

Oh, the vanity, the foolish vanity, of this interesting human animal!

Firemen Change Dance Location To Cathedral

New Central Fire Station Not Ready For Smoke Eaters Ball June 28

HOPE TO SELL TWO THOUSAND

Because the new Central fire station on South Jefferson street will not be ready by June 28, and also because of a heavy sale of tickets, the firemen of the city announced today that their ball would be held in the Scottish Rite cathedral on that evening instead of in the new station.

No accurate count on the ticket sale has been made as yet, but it is thought that somewhere near a thousand tickets have been sold. This is about half as many as should be sold, and there is yet time for anyone wanting a ticket to get one.

The proceeds of the ticket sale will go towards the firemen's relief fund and every citizen who appreciates the efficiency of the New Castle Fire department can well afford to buy a brace of the tickets.

Every fireman has them for sale, and while they are no guarantee against fire in your own home, they are a small token of appreciation for the work the smoke eaters here have done.

To Place Fine On Postage Due Mail

Fine Of 1c Will Be Charged On First Class Mail Underpaid

According to advice received at the local post office from the department in Washington after July 1 a fine will be placed on all first class mail that is under paid more than one postage rate. This is being done to endeavor to decrease the large number of letters and packages that are mailed without sufficient postage, says Edwin W. Crawford, local postmaster.

If the letter or package is short only one rate, it will be forwarded and only the postage due collected from the one receiving the mail. But if it is short more than one rate the deficient postage will be collected and an additional 1c for each ounce or fraction thereof.

As explained by the postal officials this would mean that if you should mail a letter weighing, say, slightly over 2 ounces, with four cents postage paid on it, then only the 2c due would be collected from the one receiving it. But if there was only 2c paid on it, then the deficient postage of 4c would be collected and in addition 3c, 1c fine for each of the three ounces.

This applies to all first class mail and is thought that it will be instrumental in decreasing the mail in this class with deficient postage. The amount of postage due will be written or handstamped on each letter or parcel.

HE'S NO VICTIM

Don't get the idea that you or any other person is a victim of fate. Remember that man did not inherit the ability to fly, but he acquired it. He didn't inherit the ability to talk around the earth, but he acquired it. Dr. E. L. Fisk, well known physician, says man did not inherit a life term of 100 years, but he may acquire it. There is no known limit to the average lifetime man might acquire by scientific control of his tissues.

DOES IT MATTER?

We will do well to ask ourselves many, many times: Does it matter? So many things we get very critical about really don't matter at all. For some reason, when we see people who think differently and do differently from the way we think and do, we feel it is the perfectly normal and logical thing to try and persuade them by one means or another to do things our way. So many of us divide all possible action into two classifications: our way and the wrong way. Most of us are not looking for the right way. We are looking for OUR way.

What an altered world this will be if the time ever comes when we are able to judge our own importance with anything like accuracy!

WE MUST NOT FORGET—

That principles will endure long after battles have been lost.

That all spending of money must be judged by the kind of satisfaction it brings.

That no man has learned to speak who does not know the value of silence.

That many a man has lost everything by winning an argument.

That if a thing is right then any fight against is hopeless in the end.

That cynicism has never yet been able to point to a glorious achievement.

That laughter has cost us too much if it has robbed us of reverence.

Blood of Indian Chiefs Flows in Curtis' Veins

G. O. P. Vice-Presidential Nominee Is a Real 100% American

By GRAHAM STEWART
International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

For the first time in American history an Indian looms as likely to become Vice-President of the United States! This statement isn't as fantastic as it sounds, for—

Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, chosen by the Republicans of the country to be the running mate of Herbert Hoover, is a descendant of noble Indian chieftains, himself born on Indian territory in what is now North Topeka. The holder of a powerful position in the Senate, where he was for some time G. O. P. leader, and a statesman second to none, which fact he proved when he coaxed the insurgents of the upper house into party alignment, the vice-presidential nominee's grandmother was a member of the Kansas Tribe and was one-half Indian.

His maternal great-grandfather was "White Plume," chief of the Kansas Tribe, who was the son of "Pawhuska," the great chieftain of the Osages.

SENATOR CHARLES CURTIS

Thus Senator Curtis, cowboy, rancher, statesman, is justly a "100 per cent. American," one of the few who has ever attained high office in the United States.

The so-called efficient sex isn't the one that can hold three ounces of fabric aloft and let gravity dress it.

Drys Back Hoover If Smith Is Nominee

LINCOLN, Neb., June 20. — Should Al Smith be nominated as candidate for president by the Democratic national convention, the Anti-Saloon League will support Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee, F. Scott McBride, Washington, general superintendent of the league, declared here in his first public statement since the Republican convention. He was attending a state meeting of the league here.

Regardless of any dry planks that may be inserted in the Democratic platform and any decision of Smith to uphold dry enforcement, his past record as governor of New York and his public utterances against prohibition would be too unfavorable to enforcement to warrant his support by the league, Mr. McBride said.

NO CONFIRMATION OF REPORT AMUNDSEN FINDS NOBILE CREW

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 20.—There was still no confirmation today of the report that Captain Roald Amundsen and Major Guilbaud had located General Umberto Nobile and his marooned crew while scouring the Arctic wastes in a French seaplane and had landed near the encampment of the Italia's crew.

The report, based upon a radio message said to have been received at King's Bay, Spitzbergen, stated that the famous Arctic explorer and the French aviator had succeeded in landing their plane on a stretch of open water a few kilometers from Nobile's camp and in plain view of the stranded crew of the lost dirigible.

In view of the fact that the French plane is equipped with wireless and Nobile has been in almost constant communication with the Citta Di Milano, it is hard to account for the lack of confirmation of the report, if it were true.

Meanwhile some slight anxiety was being felt at Oslo, Norway, over the continued silence of Amundsen. More than 40 hours have passed since the French plane left Tromsoe, Norway.

Three Couples In Pittsburgh Seek New All-Time Record For Continuous Dancing

PITTSBURGH, June 20.—With three hundred hours of marathon dancing left behind, three Pittsburgh couples today continued their long slow grind, striving for an all-time record before weariness forced them from the contest.

Two other contests are also under way. In one eight negro couples have passed the 220-hour mark, while in the other 23 couples have been in the dance more than 156 hours.

Senator Weingartner's Condition Is Reported As Good By Hospital Authorities

Hospital reports at noon today were to the effect that Senator George T. Weingartner, who was injured Tuesday morning in an accident at the corner of East Washington street and Florence avenue, was in good condition and that the probabilities now are that there will be no serious effects from the accident. He is suffering somewhat from soreness but passed a good night last night.

David H. Long, who was also injured in the same accident as Senator Weingartner, was discharged from the hospital Tuesday evening. His injuries consisted of cuts about the head and hands.

P. & L. E. WORKMAN BECOMES VIOLENT

Fred Fry, the P. & L. E. workman located at the P. & L. E. camp at New Castle Junction, who yesterday complained of the men of the camp attempting to molest him and was himself locked up, when it was said that he was suffering from something like "snakes" as a result of a Pittsburgh spree, was today sent to the county jail by order of Mayor William H. Gillespie for a period of five days. Since being placed in the city jail, he had given so many more indications of being off his mental balance that it was thought best to place him in the county jail for observation. It is possible that a commission may be appointed to examine him.

ident Mrs. J. L. Stratton in the chair. Devotionals were led by Mrs. S. W. Beiller of Butler. Early in the meeting a short memorial service was held in memory of Mrs. Nancy A. Shiner who for so many years was a factor in the life of the Almira Home. The memorial address was delivered by Miss Belle Lowery of Butler. Her address was a fitting tribute to the memory of the departed woman who was so loved by her associates.

Committee Reports.

Committee reports were made by the various chairmen. Mrs. R. G. Maxwell, chairman of the religious work committee reported the services held during the past year and spoke upon the co-operation of the various church societies in this respect. Mrs. J. H. Frew, chairman of the donation committee reported an increase of clothing, foodstuffs and the like which had been given. The report of the house committee by Mrs. A. S. Love, chairman, showed this department to be in good shape. Mrs. George A. Rigby, chairman of the property committee disclosed a number of improvements made during the year, painting done, and the like. For the inmate committee, Mrs. H. C. Harper, chairman, reported 3 deaths and 3 admissions during the year, with a total number of guests in the home as 43, with 35 on the waiting list. This number of guests is divided as follows: from Lawrence county, 18; from Mercer county, 11; from Butler county, 6; from Venango county, 5, and state-wide, 3. Mrs. C. E. Trainor, corresponding secretary reported the duties of her office for the past year and the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Carrie E. Agnew, showed a balance of receipts and expenditures for the year of $16,655.14.

Matron Resigns.

During the course of the meeting the resignation of Miss Minnie Sterling was read and accepted with regret. Miss Sterling has been a most efficient matron and an asset to the home. For the past ten years she has handled the duties of matron in a most business like manner but recently she decided to leave the work and take over the duties of housekeeper for her sister. In her place Mrs. Rose N. Sloan was elected as Miss Sterling's successor and Mrs. Sloan will take office on July 1st.

The people of the four counties served by the Almira Home can well be proud of this splendid institution. It provides a Christian home for aged women with a refined atmosphere, and a comfortable place in which to spend their decling years. Organized in 1893 it has carried on a wonderful work and the present size of the endowment fund is due to the unceasing efforts of the sacrificing women who serve as trustees of the home. Each year the fund is added to and in the coming year it is hoped to add $10,000.00 to it.

In order to aid in the work an advisory committee composed of business and professional men give their time in guiding the financial policy of the home and their work has been of large benefit to the home.

The only apparent fault with the Almira Home is that it should be larger. Thirty-five applicants are on the waiting list but because of the lack of space cannot be accommodated at this time. In every other respect the Almira Home is rendering an almost 100 percent service, caring for the aged, and seeing to it that their remaining years are passed comfortably, Christian like, and shielded from any of the rigors of outside life. It is a remarkable institution, the Almira Home and the annual report, just made, is but another evidence of the splendid manner in which it is being conducted.

MINOR CRASHES ON POLICE REPORT

A number of minor automobile accidents were reported to the police in the past twenty-four hours. Some damage was done, but no person was injured.

L. Kline of 406 East Wallace avenue, reported that he was driving north on North Mill street, at North street, when the car of D. L. Cameron, 107 South Mulberry street, made a turn to go east on North street, and the machines came together. The damage done was not extensive.

Rev. V. V. Stancelewski of 10 East Charters street, reported that his machine was parked on South Jefferson street, near Washington street, when a car, the license number of which he did not obtain ran into and damaged his car.

F. A. Hamill of 202 South Crawford avenue, reported that he was driving north on South Jefferson street, near the Eagles club, when the car of Mrs. A. W. Bloomer, 1014 West Washington street, which was double parked on South Jefferson street, pulled out and hit and damaged the rear of the Hamill car.

Pushing Plans For Outing On July 25

Spanish War Veterans And Auxiliary Make Plans For Big Local Event

Joint meeting of the Spanish-American War Veterans and their auxiliary held Tuesday evening in the Legion Home was largely attended and proved of more than ordinary interest by reason of the program provided and also the business transacted.

At the meeting last night arrangements were made for the attendance of the delegates at the convention being held at Conneaut Lake. The local delegates will attend Thursday in company with the Grove City delegation.

Another feature of the meeting last night was the moving pictures given by Corporal Thomas, local army recruiting officer. The films showed the present day life of a member of the United States army. They proved so interesting that the members of the Spanish-American War Veterans and their auxiliary extended Corporal Thomas a vote of thanks. Quite a number of children of the members were present and thoroughly enjoyed the affair.

Reports received by Mrs. F. F. Knowles, secretary of the soldiers picnic of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio being sponsored by the Spanish-American War Veterans of this city and Mrs. E. J. Suber, president of the auxiliary from the various patriotic organizations which have been invited to participate in this affair to be held at Cascade park on July 25 were most encouraging. All endorse the outing and many are planning to attend.

It was decided that all military organizations of the city, county and district be invited to participate. The members of the G. A. R. are to be the guests of honor of the occasion.

The day's events will be featured by a grand march in which the Civil War Veterans will have a special position of honor.

Orville VanHorn was named as chairman of the reception committee for the day and Emmett Kurtz as assistant.

It was also planed to distribute on that day several thousand tags to be worn by the people participating in the affair.

State Pardon Board Gets Appeal From Two First Degree Murderers

FORTY-TWO CASES UP FOR HEARING

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 20.—Two first degree murder cases are scheduled among the 42 listed for hearing before the State Board of Pardons today.

Attorneys for Joseph Kamenisky, Jr., 20, of Jessup, will ask the board to save the youth from the electric chair. He is under the death sentence but no date has been fixed. Kamenisky was convicted of the shooting of Dr. Gerald Kelly who had amputated the former's leg after a mine accident.

A complete pardon will be asked for Raimondo Valentino, Clinton county, sentenced to life imprisonment for the fatal stabbing of Howard Wagner. He has served less than three years.

James Salerno, 76, Lycoming county, the oldest "lifer" in the state prisons also is asking a pardon. He was sentenced to be hanged in 1905 but the sentence later was commuted to life imprisonment. During a drunken quarrel he attempted to kill his wife but the bullet struck his stepdaughter instead.

Dam Is Holding At Hagerstown

Flood Danger In Antietam Valley Is Now Believed To Be Passed

(International News Service)

HAGERSTOWN, Md., June 20.—Water department officials here announced today that the dam at the Edegmont reservoir was still holding and that practically all danger of its collapse had passed.

Although there had been reports that several sections of the structure had been washed away, releasing tons of water which flooded the Antietam valley, officials said such stories were unfounded. They declared that the only damage done to the dam was the washing away of several inches of the bank as the water ran over the spillway.

Small streams in this section were still swollen today, having carried away several small bridges and flooded sections of the lowlands. Officials said that no towns were in danger and that if no more rain falls, all possibility of a serious flood has past.

Advises Abolition Of Grand Juries

Chicago Crime Group Also Urges Judges Frame Own Instructions

CHICAGO, June 20.—Virtual abolition of the grand jury in all felony cases, except where summoned by the court, and prosecution by information was recommended last night in a report by the Association for Criminal Justice compiled in co-operation with the Chicago Crime Commission.

The report, the fourth of a series dealing with criminal procedure in Illinois, had for its subject, "Judicial Administration", and was written by Judge Edward W. Hinton, professor of law of the University of Chicago law school, after a survey of more than 16,000 criminal cases in 1926 in 20 Illinois counties and in Milwaukee, which was included because of its reputation for swift justice.

Although thousands of persons accused of crime go free each year in Illinois, the report disclosed that only 58-100 of 1 per cent are discharged by the trial judge, and less than 6 per cent in Cook County are freed by juries.

Besides advocating virtual abolition of the grand jury, the report also made the following recommendations:

About Waiver of Trials

That the Legislature provide for waiver of trial by jury in felony cases; that judges discourage the practice of waiving felony charges, and of dismissals by motions to nolle except for sufficient cause; that reading of decisions by courts in other states to Illinois juries be prohibited; that trial judges frame their own instructions to juries instead of having lawyers prepare them.

That judges discourage the practice of setting aside bond forfeitures except on a meritorious excuse; that the habeas corpus act be revised and the state be given an appeal for an order discharging a prisoner; that a rule of court provide for examination of jurors by the trial judge with leave to counsel to supplement such examination.

Trees Will Screen Pittsburgh Hills

HARRISBURG, June 20.—The Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters is co-operating with the city planning commission of Pittsburgh in making the hillsides green in the vicinity of the once "Smoky City."

This spring a small transplant forest tree nursery was established to grow thrifty planting stock for this project. The trees will be used for the protection of bare and eroded hills about Pittsburgh and will be a big factor in bringing about the beautification of these barren slopes, it is believed.

False Pretense Is Alleged In Trial

The case of the commonwealth against Phoebe M. Fry, charged with false pretense, is on trial before Judge Chambers today. It is claimed that Mrs. Fry secured the burial of a relative by the Kelly Undertaking Company by representing that the deceased held an insurance policy that would cover expenses. It was later found that the insurance policy had lapsed.

Sets Speed Record

Leon Duray set a world's speed record for automobiles over any track other than a straightaway when he piloted his racing car around a two and a half mile oval in Detroit at the rate of 149 miles per hour. The old mark of 147.071 miles per hour was held by the late Frank Lockhart.

An Analysis Of Senator Curtis

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

KANSAS CITY, June 20.—Senator Charley Curtis undoubtedly got exactly what he'd been angling for all along, when the Republicans nominated him for vice president.

Charley is too smooth a politician not to have realized from the first that his presidential chances were pretty poor.

But he did want second place on the ticket. He wanted it four years ago, and came fairly close to getting it. He didn't speak for the presidency then, because there wasn't any question that Cal would be named to succeed himself. This time the field was open, and the Kansas senator evidently thought he might as well ask for everything in sight, while well enough satisfied in his own mind that he'd only get a fraction of it.

Curtis is a mighty popular candidate in this neck of the woods—much more so than Herbert Hoover.

Kansas City regards him as practically a favorite son.

And besides, nobody who knows Charley at all can help liking him. He isn't of the tremendously magnetic type, but he's friendly and appealing. You feel naturally that you'd be glad to see him provided with anything he expressed a wish for, in reason.

The fact is that Curtis probably will help Hoover a good deal more than Hoover will help him.

He's a strong man in the Mid-West, where Herb appears to be weak, and at the same time, he's the type of personality to suit the Wall Street folk, with whom the commerce secretary's political standing isn't very high, either.

On top of that, in spite of all that anybody may say, Hoovers' an extremely poor politician, and Curtis is one of the cleverest in the business.

The great trouble with Herbert is he knows too much—not in the sense that his head's swelled, but he insists on doing his own thinking. Sometimes his mental processes bring him to conclusions that don't jibe with party ideas, and when that happens he stands pat for the ones he himself has arrived at.

Curtis isn't so high-powered a reasoning machine. He has sound horse sense, but he isn't a fancy performer with his gray matter, such as Hoover. And he can smother his individual opinions if political expediency calls for it.

For instance, Charley never made any secret of the circumstance that he didn't much believe in the McNary-Haugen form of farm relief.

Nevertheless, he campaigned for it, gave it his vote, and kept his record straight with his agricultural constituency, up to the point where it came to overruling President Coolidge's veto—which was enough of a different proposition to permit him to explain his course with a fair degree of consistency.

That's Curtis—a past master in the art of walking a tight rope.

He ought to be able to give Herbert some valuable tips at it—and he will, too, his personal candidacy being involved with the Californian's.

Just why Curtis has a fancy for the vice presidency isn't entirely clear.

As Republican leader in the Senate he's much more influential than he can be in the voteless presiding officers' chair.

It may be that, with his long experience, he'll manage, if elected, to make a more important job of the vice president's than it's generally been hitherto. Still, he knows the game too thoroughly not to appreciate that the post is mainly an empty honor—unless, of course, it leads to the White House. The odds are against that in this instance, Curtis being a much older man than Hoover.

Woman Denies All Knowledge Of Her Husband's Murder

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 20.—Adamant, yet wracked with nervous tension, the blonde widow of John I. Glab, murdered Chicago druggist, today, despite prolonged questioning, denied any knowledge of the shooting of her husband.

Glab was shot late Monday night as he stepped from his automobile in front of his home at Van Nuys. He died 40 minutes later without regaining consciousness.

Investigators have unearthed many conflicting stories concerning the circumstances surrounding the murder.

Mrs. Glab claims she was playing cards at her home with her niece, Miss Ethel O. Kaser, 17, of Oklahoma City, at the time of the shooting. Both women, when first questioned, said they heard no shots. Later, however, according to police, Miss Kaser admitted she heard a shot, or a noise, and that Mrs. Glab told her to pull down the blind and "don't make a target of yourself."

HIS STAND

"This 'ere permiscuous parking of cars anywhere and everywhere has got to stop!" sternly said Constable Slackputter of Petunia.

"There is only one car in sight besides mine," returned the offending motorist. "You wouldn't call two cars in a block 'promiscuous' would you?"

"I wouldn't, har? By gosh—when I say a thing is permiscuous it's permiscuous, whether it is or not!"—Kansas City Times.

Gangland Gets More Victims

Three More Shot To Death In Chicago Underworld Gang Warfare

POLICE ARE FEARFUL GANG WAR RESUMED

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 20.—The assassination early today of James Reggie, alleged henchman of Mike Carrozzo, labor leader brought the number of gangland's victims within the past 24 hours to three

Two other men, Joseph Salamone and John Oliveri, both known as "alky racketeers" were riddled with slugs from sawed-off shotguns at "death corner" in Little Italy late yesterday.

Salamone and Oliveri were known enemies of the powerful Aiello gang which tried unsuccessfully a year ago to supplant Scarface Al Capone as czar of Chicago's illicit alcohol industry.

While authorities have been unable to connect the slayings of Salamone and Oliveri with that of Reggi whose operations were several miles removed from Little Italy they are convinced there is underworld linking of the crimes that portend a deadly renewal of gang warfare.

All available bureau squads, experienced in combatting the sinister underworld feuds were on duty today cruising the troubled districts with orders to pick up known gangsters and suspicious characters. All squads were heavily armed.

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, June 20.—This is the most expensive and the least expensive city in the world, according to how careful you are with your money. Nowhere is it possible to get less for more money, or more for less money.

For example, the matter of entertainment. It's easy as collecting movie stars' autographed photos to spend $2,000 a night on Fraudwau, but it also is easy to have a grand time for nothing in lots of other places. An extraordinary number of free pleasures, and the best ones, await the resident and the visitor who will seek them.

A popular attraction this time of the year, and throughout the summer, is the concert given on alternate evenings in Central park and the New York university campus by the Goldman band. These concerts feature the best musicians. From 15,000 to 40,000 persons attend them nightly, gathering in couples or family groups before the accoustical band oval or under the trees. One may lie in cool grass under stars and hear the best of Wagner, Mozart, Bach, Struss, Handel, Hadyn, Beethoven.

The concerts are paid for by a fund established by the Guggenheim family. Free concerts on a smaller scale are given in nearly all New York parks. These are the places to get an accurate impression of the sort of average persons who make up New York.

Meeting a celebrity, especially a publicly blustering one, invariably is disappointing to an admirer of the great one. And those who meet Henry Louis Mencken, the erstwhile antichrist, are particularly disappointed. For he doesn't look much like the Nietzschean creature of blood and iron his writings make him out to be. He is short and dumpy, with blue eyes that have a childish stare. He's unmarried, and says bachelors are the luckiest men in the world, but privately admits that he might have long since ventured into matrimony had it not been for the complete comfort he finds in the home of his sister. After a glass of beer he'll further confess that creature comforts are essential to any man's well-being, and these are found genuinely only when there's a woman present.

After concocting his daily output of vitriolic buffooneries, which pour scorn upon dutiful men, he goes home to repair the plumbing, mow the lawn and hang pictures under command of his sisters.

Since writing about literary agents, I have been hearing from scores of literary aspirants who want the names and addresses of agents. So I asked George Bye, one of the best known agents, if I might refer inquiries to him. "No," said he. "We are so exclusive that some times we will not even look at ourselves in the mirror."

Code cable addresses usually are rather dull and prosaic inventions. George Bye's is the best I've ever heard of. It's "Byanbye, New York."

Lots of persons who read "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" didn't realize what realistic characters Lorelei and Dorothy were. The other night at one of the speakeasies where the so-called best people see the sun come up when they are able to see, a younger son of one of New York's famous families was swapping chatter with a beauty, who suddenly left him and went over to Walter Winchell's table. "I've been wasting time over there," she pouted. "I just found out his monthly allowance is only $400."

"President's Rival"

Mrs. Bryan Attracted Great Attention On Husband's Tours; Sent Ribbons From Bouquets To Her Daughter

Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, when her husband first ran for the presidency, and, inset, Bryan, as he looked when he campaigned against McKinley.

(This is the third of a series of stories on presidential candidates and their wives—the series being termed "In Memory's Portrait Gallery" by the writer, Idah McGlone Gibson.)

By IDAH McGLONE GIBSON
Especially Written for Central Press and New Castle News

William Jennings Bryan at the time he ran against William McKinley was one of the handsomest young men in the public eye. His face, of very regular features, shone with a radiant enthusiasm of which the disappointments of his later years robbed him.

When he made his great campaign on the Democratic ticket in favor of free silver, accompanied by his wife, his elegance and good looks and personality made many a voter say to himself while listening to him, "Almost thou persuadest me."

Boquets for Mrs. Bryan

This was Bryan's great misfortune. He was almost, but never quite persuading his hearers.

In one of the larger towns in Ohio, a number of Democratic women arranged a reception for Mrs. Bryan.

At that time, for a politician's wife to accompany him on a speaking tour was an innovation, and wherever she went, she was the recipient of much attention and usually a profusion of flowers.

It was at the beginning of the fashion of tieing boquets and baskets of flowers with gorgeous ribbon, and, at her reception, each cluster of blossoms seemed to have more and richer ribbon tied around it than the last. I happened to be standing near Mrs. Bryan as messengers and admirers presented baskets and boxes tied with every conceivable color and kind that could be imagined were presented to her, and suggested that I would find some vases for the flowers.

Ribbons for Daughter

"Never mind," she answered, "there will be a relay of fresh ones tomorrow." Then she dropped the last bunch of blossoms carelessly on the tables before her.

While she was talking she was carefully taking off the ribbons, however, rolling them around her fingers, and laying them aside.

"Do you always receive as many flowers as this," I asked, "and are they always tied with such gorgeous ribbons?"

"Perhaps not," she answered, "but I wrote to my daughter this morning that regardless of whether her father was elected the next president of the United States of not, she would have hair ribbons enough to last her all her life."

Of course at that time Mrs. Bryan could not know that the theories of her husband, as well as the practice of wearing hair ribbons, would go out of fashion.

RAINS DELAY WORK ON ROAD

May Not Start Pouring Of Concrete On East Brook Road Before Next Week

It was thought that work would have been started on pouring concrete on the East Brook-Volant road this week but on account of the rains workmen may not be able to start before next week, according to H. E. Golder, contractor on the project.

Grades were all in shape the first of the week when the heavy rain on Monday washed them so that much of the work will need to be done over again. If the weather clears up the pouring of concrete may start Friday or Saturday this week.

The remainder of the newly constructed road to Edenburg will be opened in a few days says Mr. Golder.

LADY SAYS SHE NEVER BEFORE FELT SO WELL

Jefferson St. Resident Is Restored To Health By Famous Ten Herbs.

"I can truthfully say, that since using Ten Herbs, I feel better and stronger than I have ever felt before," was the statement of Mrs. Roselee Martin, 303½ South Jefferson Street, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine to crowds of men and women.

MRS. ROSELEE MARTIN

"When I started taking your medicine, I was in such bad condition that I could not work," Mrs. Martin continued. "I was almost a nervous wreck. I could not sleep and would arise in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed. I could not eat anything in the morning, and very little at noon. What little I ate, caused me much misery, as gas would form on my stomach. My liver was disordered, and my complexion sallow. I believe my kidneys were out of order, as there were pains in my back every time I stooped over. I was badly constipated, and at times had awful dizzy spells.

"While I was taking the second bottle of Ten Herbs, friends began to remark how much better I was looking. I am pleased to say that I found Ten Herbs to be just the medicine I needed. My digestion is good, and I can eat anything without having any distress afterwards. My appetite is fine—I can hardly wait until I have breakfast. Constipation is gone, and my nerves are much stronger. I sleep the whole night through and arise in the morning feeling refreshed. I heartily recommend Ten Herbs to anyone suffering as I did."

Profit by the experience of many in this section. Let Ten Herbs benefit and invigorate your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. This new herbal compound will also give your entire system a thorough cleansing, making you feel better in every way.

MIDDLE-AGED WOMEN KEEP IN GOOD HEALTH

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MRS. C. E. YOUNG
19 Chapel St., Cobleskill, N. Y.

Cobleskill, N. Y.—"I keep Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house and if I don't feel just right I take it. I can't say just how long I have been taking it but it is a good while. I take it now for a run-down condition and old age and it certainly helps me wonderfully. I used to read about how it helped other women and I thought it would help me and it does. My husband used to have to help me with the work but after taking the Vegetable Compound I got better. I recommend it and you can use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. C. E. Young, 19 Chapel St., Cobleskill, N. Y.

Mrs. Corse Recommends It

Clinton, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was having the Change of Life. I felt miserable all one summer then I noticed an ad of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper. I tried it and in no time began to feel better. Although I am the housekeeper for a family of six I did not give up my work at any time. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to others and will answer any inquiries."—Mrs. Lucy Corse, 33 Laurel Street, Clinton, Mass.

Freight Vessel Finds Seaplane Adrift At Sea

Freight Ship Reports Wing Crushed And Crew Missing; Craft Drifts Helplessly

UNABLE TO LOCATE IDENTITY OF OWNERS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 20.—With her left wing crushed and showing signs of having crashed into the ocean, a seaplane bearing the Department of Commerce markings HR-43 today was reported adrift 83 miles east of Ambrose Light and 25 miles south of Long Island.

No signs of pilot or crew were found by the freighter Heffron, which reported the derelict, and coastguard officials fear that all aboard the seaplane may have been killed in the crash or thrown into the ocean and drowned.

Word of the seaplane's disaster was received by radio at the Atlantic Highlands station today from the captain of the Heffron which left Baltimore yesterday enroute to New York.

A coastguard patrol boat was dispatched to the scene of the wreck immediately, with instructions to comb the seas for several miles about in an effort to find the missing air crew.

HR-43 is the marking of a commercial biplane of the nautical type. No record of its ownership was available here today but the Secretary of Commerce has been advised of the wreck and asked to supply the coast guard commander with identification of the plane's owner.

Continue Survey Of Road Water Supply

HARRISBURG, June 20.—The work of examining the semi-public water supplies along the State highways is progressing rapidly, according to Henry P. Drake, engineer in charge of the work for the State Health Department. Original examinations and analyses have been made for the counties of York, Adams, Fayette, Somerset, Franklin, Fulton, Bedford, Blair, Cambria, Washington and Allegheny.

Drake stated that 20 per cent more supplies have been examined in these counties than during last year's survey. This was explained on the basis of increased refreshment stands along the roadside as well as examination of all private pumps, wells or springs that were close to traveled roads.

One Cent Damage Award By Jury

LORAIN, O., June 20.—Damages of 1 cent have been awarded by a jury in Common Pleas Court to John Zurcher of Lorain in his $10,000 suit against W. A. Murphy, former head of the Lorain prohibition squad.

The plaintiff charged Murphy with false arrest. The police officer swore out a warrant for Zurcher's arrest on a likuor charge three months ago, but the case was dismissed in Municipal Court here because of lack of evidence.

Counsel for Murphy said he would ask for a new trial and if this is not granted, the case will be carried to the Court of Appeals.

NEW YORK HAILS MEXICO'S 'LINDY'

It was a proud moment for Capt. Emilio Carranza, the "Mexican Lindbergh," when he swooped down out of the clouds at Mitchel Field and received the spontaneous homage which New York reserves for heroic birdmen. His plane, a sister ship of Lindy's "Spirit of St. Louis," came down in a perfect "three point" landing, and an instant later the pilot was in his father's embrace. Below, the young aviator with Major-General Ely, commanding the Second Corps Area.

Church Equipped Mosques Urged In Turkish Reform

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 20.—Although the government of Mustapha Kemal has not turned the Turks into Christians, its latest and most startling religious report, published today, recommends what is tantamount to turning the mosques into churches.

The government commission charged with religious reform reported that the present form of worship in the mosques is incompatible with modern civilization and that Moslem services need revivifying.

The commission has decided that the spacious quietness of the mosques, heretofore empty of furnishings save for rugs, and silent except for the droning of the koran by a priest, must give way to Occidental pews, altars, organs and choirs.

The faithful must hereafter keep their shoes on and give up the traditional squatting on rugs.

These measures, re-shaping the beloved rituals of the Anatolians, are considered the boldest westernizing stroke of the government since the abolition of the fez as a head covering.

Lack Of Women Saddens Sofia

SOFIA, June 20.—In spite of the mortality of two years, Sofia has more men that women inhabitants. On the Corso in the theater and in cafes and restaurants, one sees few women.

Women of the well-to-do families stay at home—a tradition continued from the days when this country was under Mohammedan rule. Unmarried women especially are closely guarded and the pleasures of games and sport even dancing are known to few.

Dancing, it is true was indulged in during the last four or five years in private houses but now a wave of conservatism has broken over Sofia society and girls must wait until they are married before mixing with the other sex even under mamma's eyes.

This absence of women in the streets and public places of Sofia has a depressing effect especially as music halls and other places of amusement are suffering from the lack of feminine talent since the government has denied admission to foreign artists.

The cabarets and music halls are almost deserted.

Average Fire Costs $1591, Survey Finds

HARRISBURG, June 20—The average loss from each fire in the commonwealth, outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, is $1591, figures compiled in the bureau of fire protection of the Pennsylvania state police today revealed. In the last 12-month period 19,489 fires were reported. The total loss was $31,116,712.

The month of March showed the heaviest loss with 2301 fires and a loss of $3,752,007. Lackawanna county with 1217 fires, Erie 972, Cambria 986 and Westmoreland with 707 indicated the heaviest losses.

Apartment houses and dwellings accounted for 11,669 fires with a loss of $6,909,695.

One thousand eight hundred and thirty-one fires on farm properties caused a loss to farmers of $3,318,869, a large percentage covering barns and farm dwellings, according to the report.

Fires play no favorites as indicated by seven fires occurring in buildings housing fire apparatus.

During the period the bureau made 8380 inspections and issued 4911 approvals of plans for gasoline dispensing stations.

Fail To Identify Drifting Plane

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The markings "HR—43" on a seaplane found drifting off Ambrose Light, New York, is not sufficient to identify ownership of the craft, Commerce Department aviation experts announced today.

Aircraft licensed by the federal government bear the markings "C" for commercial planes, "X" for experimental and "S" for state owned planes followed by the numbers.

"ONE-EYE" CONNELLY DOES NOT CHOOSE TO RUN, EXCEPT PAST GATE

HOUSTON, Tex., June 20.—A rabbit's foot with a record of 13s was officially offered to Clem Shaver Democratic national committee chairman today by a Texas Democrat who is "willing to part with it for a good cause and if it will bring as good luck to the man nominated here as it has to me, then God save the Republicans."

The rabbit's foot would even nominate "One-Eyed" Connelly, world's champion gate crasher according to the donor.

"One-Eyed" who blew into town today without his famous green suit, blushed at the idea of anyone having a thought of nominating him.

"I am a gate crasher, not a politician" he announced firmly.

SNAKE 90-FEET LONG KILLED BY LIGHNING

SAN SALVADOR, June 20.—A reptile of pre-historic size and appearance was discovered on the beach of the Gulf of Fonseca, a dispatch received here indicated. Apparently it had been killed by lightning.

The serpent was 90 feet, six inches long, marked with black and white stripes, was exceedingly corpulent, and a horn protruded from its head.

Great caverns are found along the shore of the gulf and it is believed the monster lived in them. It fed on pigs and sheep.

What has become of the youth who used to believe the advertisements about snake oil for contortionists?

Mail Train Thugs Get $100,000 In Daring Robbery

Chicago Bound Train On Canadian National Line Held-Up By Thugs

(International News Service)

TORONTO, June 20.—A mail train robbery which netted at least $100,000 was staged here early today by six bandits armed with sawed-off shotguns. The gunmen entered a mail car attached to a Chicago bound train of the Canadian National railway, covered three mail clerks and escaped in a high-powered automobile with three mail pouches containing cash and registered mail.

The robbers drove their automobile through an empty train shed about five minutes before train time, leaped to the car before the clerks suspected their presence and were off again within a few minutes.

In the meantime another mail clerk on the platform, witnessing the daring holdup rushed to a phone and called the police. The police arrived just as the gunmen's car disappeared around a corner a few blocks away. A chase ensued but the bandits eluded capture.

In their hurry to get away it was reported that the bandits overlooked mail valued at a half million dollars.

The parents live on the East Canton-Louisville road and have two other children.

SEES CURE FOR MANIA SUFFERERS

NEW YORK, June 20.—New hope has arisen for sufferers from mania, melancholia and sleeping sickness, according to Prof. C. U. Ariens Kappers of Amsterdam, Holland, an authority on the brain and nervous system.

In outlining advances made in the treatment of nervous and mental diseases, Prof. Kappers spoke of the new treatment of mania and melancholia by a two-week series of somnophon injections.

Prof. Kappers declared too little attention is being paid to the abuse of nicotine, which he said leads to hallucinations and weakening of energy.

MADE HIS WIFE OBEY, IS JAILED

CLEVELAND, O., June 20.—Municipal Judge Mary B. Grossman wanted to know why Mike Fedikovics thought his wife should obey him when Mike was arraigned yesterday for striking his wife, Anna.

"I came home from work," Mrs. Fedikovics testified. "I said I was going out and Mike didn't want me to leave, and he struck me."

"Why does your wife have to work?" Judge Grossman asked Fedikovics.

"I don't earn much," he said. "She said she was going to her mother's, and I told her to cook supper before she went. She wouldn't obey me."

"Well, what makes you think she should obey you?" the judge asked, then sentenced him to 60 days in the workhouse, suspending half of the sentence.

SHOTGUN BLAST TEARS HIS SCALP

UNIONTOWN, June 20.—When the gun he used yesterday to dispatch a troublesome cat was discharged this morning as he was carrying it upstairs, John Schnatterly, aged 54, of Brownsville was literally scalped by the charge from a muzzle loading shotgun. The shot whizzed dangerously near Mr. Schnatterly's head, but glanced off his skull, tearing away part of his scalp. He was removed to the Uniontown hospital. His condition is considered good and he probably will recover.

Navy's Altitude King

Lieutenant Arthur Gavin, U. S. N. (above) broke the altitude record for a laden craft when he climbed to a height of 18,500 feet in a seaplane with a one-ton load. The former American record was 16,000 feet. His plane was a navy type PN-12.

Wheeler has been suffering from a serious blood infection since last winter and physicians hold out little hope of his recovery. The previous excellent class work of the Chicago student and the recommendations of his professors were instrumental in securing the coveted degree for Wheeler.

Wheeler, when informed of the action of the college authorities was immensely cheered, and, according to his doctors, his chances of recovery may be improved.

Revoke License For New Cause

State Highway Department Acts To Stop Demonstrations On Highways

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 20. — In revoking the operator's license held by A. B. Jenkins, Pittsburgh, the Department of Highways today took its first step in a campaign to stop the practice of using public highways for automobile demonstrations which are not within provisions of the motor code.

The revocation followed public announcement by the distributors of an automobile that Jenkins "hung up a record by topping the rise of the big Uniontown hill at the rate of 60 miles per hour." At the time Jenkins made the test he carried 14 persons, eight inside the car and three on each running board.

The demonstration on the Uniontown hill followed similar ones in Pittsburgh in which no action was taken by Pittsburgh authorities.

In announcing the revocation officials cited a recent fatal accident near Harrisburg which resulted from the desire of two drivers to test the claims made by the makers of their automobiles.

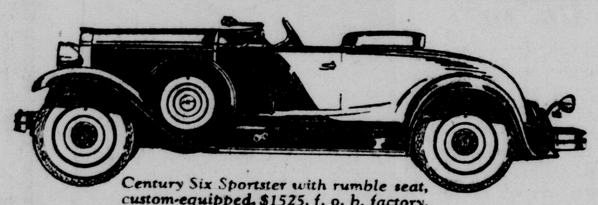
Performance typical of the Century's motoring progress



Century Six Sportster with rumble seat, custom-equipped, $1525, f. o. b. factory.

STYLE · POWER · SPEED · STRENGTH

THOUGH he may first have been attracted by the brilliant new beauty and distinction of the Century Six or Eight, any Hupmobile owner will tell you that sparkling performance comes foremost in the list of his car's fine qualities. Power, rated not in spasmodic bursts of speed, but in the manner in which these superlative high compression engines settle down to their tasks; sweetly and smoothly without visible effort or strain. Steering ease that eliminates the last vestige of driving fatigue. Brakes that will stop the car "on a dime," yet cannot squeak or rattle no matter how hard they are applied. Mechanically, the new Century Hupmobiles are as far in the van of Twentieth Century motoring progress, as the modish body styles and luxury with which they are surrounded. Prove this statement to your own satisfaction by an hour or a day's test in a Century Six or Eight.

24 body and equipment combinations, standard and custom, on each line. Six of the Century, $1345 to $1625. Century Eight, $1825 to $2105. All prices f. o. b. Detroit.

State Air Rules Will Accept U. S. Bureau's Rating

124 Pilots, 113 Planes Are Eligible For Pennsylvania O. K.; Effective July 1

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, June 20—When the rules and regulations for control of aviation in Pennsylvania become effective July 1, a total of 124 pilots and 113 planes will be eligible for Pennsylvania licenses under the recent ruling of the State Aeronautics commission that those in possession of federal permits will be given state licenses without additional examination by inspectors of the department of internal affairs. Student pilots, who have taken the necessary physical examination prescribed by the federal aeronautics bureau also will be recognized by the state bureau. Reports indicate that more than 50 young men are now under training in various flying schools in the state.

Announcement by James F. Woodward, secretary of the department of internal affairs and chairman of the State Aeronautics commission, that rules and regulations had been adopted by the commission has brought to the aeronautic bureau scores of inquiries and a number of applications from prospective pilots and plane owners. Application blanks for those seeking state licenses will be mailed within a few days and arrangements made for taking the test prescribed by the aeronautics commission. Printed rules and regulations are in the hands of the printer and will be ready for distribution within ten days.

Commend Rulings.

The aeronautics bureau has received many commendatory letters congratulating the commission for its action toward controlling flying circuses, which in past years have roamed over Pennsylvania at will.

Under the ruling of the commission these organizations must not only produce the licenses of their pilots and planes, but before being able to swoop down on the commonwealth for the purpose of carrying sightseers for hire must first secure from the Public Service commission certificates of public convenience. This feature of the regulations, it is believed, will bar such organizations from the state and give citizens of the state who invest their money in planes the opportunity of serving the public without outside competition.

Another feature of the regulations which has received the endorsement of the public is that relating to the use of liquors or habit-forming drugs by pilots or the carrying of passengers who are found to be under the influence of intoxicants.

Operation of an unlicensed plane by a licensed pilot or any person operating without a pilot's license also will be considered a violation punishable by summary proceedings.

CHICAGO, June 20.—Comprehensive collections of the flora of Nicaragua are being obtained for Field Museum of Natural History by a collector who is going steadfastly on with the work despite the difficulties placed in his way by the unsettled conditions in that country.

According to a report received at the museum, F. C. Englesing, the collector, working largely right in the heart of the territory occupied by the United States marines in their operations against the Sandino forces, has secured a large collection of trees, shrubs, ferns, palms, plants and other botanical material, much of it rare, representative of Nicaragua.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SOLVING CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

Start out by filling in the words of which you feel reasonably sure. These will give you a clue to other words crossing them, and they in turn to still others. A letter belongs in each white space, words starting at the numbered squares and running either horizontally or vertically or both.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

STONES INSTEAD OF TEETH

Bobolink looked somewhat crestfallen as he perched on the clover stem and Peter hastened to say:

"Well, Bobolink, I don't blame you a bit for not guessing that Oliver Ostrich knew how to swim. I have read a lot about ostriches and that is one thing I never even heard of. If I had though about it at all I should have supposed that they hated the water just the same as most of the other birds do. Anyhow, why didn't Ostrich fly across the stream? Then he wouldn't have got his feathers wet."

At this remark the Bobolinks chuckled with all their might.

"It is easy to believe, Boy, that you have never seen many ostriches," declared Mrs. Bobolink. "Why, they haven't anywings—at least none to speak of. As for a breast bone, why, that of Oliver Ostrich was quite smooth and rounded. And who ever heard of a flying bird's breat bone that didn't project out as sharp as the keel of a boat. Don't you remember, Bob, how funny Oliver looked when he spread his little wings to the breeze and swimmed over the ground?"

"He didn't look like anything that I have ever seen before or since," chuckled her husband. "But I suppose those wings, tiny as they were for such a great creature, acted as sails and helped him to run the faster."

"Well, what happened after Oliver Ostrich climbed up the river bank?" demanded impatient young Sonny-Bunny. "What did he do next?"

"I'll bet not one of you could guess, so I will tell you," said Bobolink. Oliver Ostrich declared that he was hungry and this is what he ate for dinner; eight little fish that had swum too near the shore and got caught in the shallows (Ostrich poked about in the mud until he found them); some green grass that grew upon the river's bank, a lot of roots that he dug out of the ground, several pounds of sand, and I don't know how many pebbles, and topped off by gulping down some queer looking round things that he found lying among the grass—they looked to me like melons, but I stuck my bill into one and it tasted very bitter."

Bell Unmentioned In Will Of Wife

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 20. — John A. Bell former millionaire coal operator and banker who is serving a sentence for embezzlement in conection with the failure of the Carnegie (Pa.) Trust company, was not mentioned in the will of his wife, Mathilda R. Bell, which was probated today. Her estate consisting of $4,000 personal property, was left to her daughter and two grandsons.

The will was written in 1927 after the sensational financial difficulties of the banker.

Outlook For Game Fish Season Good, Is Buller Forecast

HARRISBURG, June 20.—On his return from a survey of the lakes and streams containing bass, pike, perch, pickerel and muscallonge, Commissioner of Fisheries N. R. Buller predicted "an excellent year" for catches of those species. The season for them will open on July 1.

In addition to his own survey, the commissioner has requested reports from his field men in all sections of the commonwealth. The information obtained from both sources now is being compiled. Commissioner Buller said all the data obtained will be made public prior to the beginning of the season. Information regarding fishing conditions in any part of the commonwealth is furnished free of charge to persons who write direct to the commission's offices here.

Unsuitable weather is blamed by Commissioner Buller for a decrease in the number of licenses issued during the present year. The commission is depending on revenue from 1928 licenses for development of the two new hatchery sites at Tionesta and Reynoldsdale.

Another announcement in the newspapers which fails to thrill us is that a former president's picture is to be placed on the new $1,000 bills.

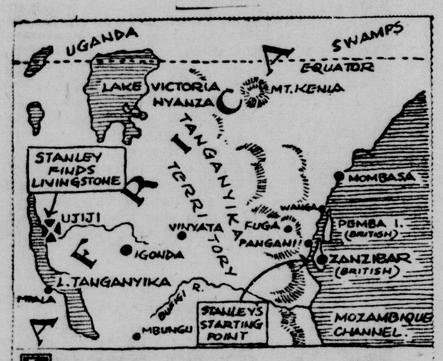
The Story Of Stanley And Livingstone—III
Stanley Finds Livingstone

NOVEMBER 10, 1871, HENRY STANLEY WITH HIS LONG TRAIN OF NATIVE GUN-BEARERS AND PORTERS, APPROACHED THE VILLAGE OF UJIJI ON THE SHORE OF LAKE TANGANYIKA. STANLEY WAS GREETED BY A NATIVE, WHO EXPLAINED IN BROKEN ENGLISH THAT HE WAS DR. LIVINGSTONE'S SERVANT, AND THAT HIS MASTER WAS IN UJIJI.

AMID THE WELCOMING SHOUTS OF THE INHABITANTS, THE "SAFARI" CARRYING THE "STARS AND STRIPES" MARCHED INTO THE VILLAGE, AND HERE STANLEY MET THE MAN HE HAD COME HUNDREDS OF MILES TO FIND.



LIVINGSTONE HAD BECOME SO ABSORBED IN EXPLORING THE VAST WILDERNESS THAT LAY IN THE INTERIOR OF THE "DARK CONTINENT" THAT HE HAD LOST CONTACT WITH THE OUTSIDE WORLD, AND WAS UNWILLING TO ABANDON THE GREAT WORK HE WAS DOING AND RETURN TO CIVILIZATION.

STANLEY REMAINED AT TANGANYIKA UNTIL FEBRUARY, 1872. THEN, SEEING THAT LIVINGSTONE WAS DETERMINED TO CONTINUE HIS EXPLORATIONS, STANLEY SHARED HIS SUPPLIES WITH THE BRITISH EXPLORER AND MADE HIS WAY BACK TO THE COAST. IN JULY, 1872, HE LANDED IN ENGLAND, WHERE HE WAS ACCLAIMED FOR HIS EXPLOIT, AND RECEIVED HIGH HONORS FROM QUEEN VICTORIA AND THE ROYAL GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY.

CONCLUDED TOMORROW.

Young Firpo To Box Joe Midway

Firpo Won From Red Jadabird Here Last Winter

TERRY McMANUS TO BATTLE DANZY

Promoter Bill Jolly, who is staging a 10-round bout between Battling Levinsky and Emmett Rocco, heavyweights, Monday night at the Jolly Bowl acts as his own matchmaker, and today stated he had mated Young Firpo, Louisville, Ky., to box Joe Midway, New Castle, in a six-round semi-final. They are middleweights. Firpo defeated Red Jadabird, Jamestown, here last winter.

Midway is a hard coal miner and like Pete Latzo lives up to the tradition of the anthracite region fighters every time he goes into the ring. He may not be as clever and elusive as Firpo, but his punch is as good, if not better, and he possesses equally as much stamina. Jolly has also matched Young Danzy, Midland, Pa., with Terry McManus, Pittsburgh, flyweights, and is arranging two other battles.

Coming Before Bout

Jimmie Dunn of Cleveland has advised Jolly that Rocco will come to New Castle a day preceding the bout and will top off his training at the Jimmie Dime gymnasium. Upon receiving this information Jolly requested Battling Levinsky to do likewise. The bout between this pair of heavyweights should be brimful of action, as neither of them loitered during their 10-round battle at Akron recently.

The promoter stated today that the first bout would be staged at nine o'clock, fast time, and said that the time had been set in deference to fans who found it would be impossible for them to be present should the battle be staged earlier. There will be three entrances and the indications are that a big crowd from all points in the tri-state section will witness the fistic pyrotechnics.

Risko-Godfrey Battle Tonight

Johnny Risko, Cleveland Battler, Favored To Defeat Black Menace

By SID MERCER
International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 20.—Whether George Godfrey, huge negro heavyweight, is to be seriously considered as a new black menace or relegated to the role of a hopeless outsider depends on his showing tonight at Ebbets Field against Johnny Risko, one of the toughest white trial horses.

Lacking the glamour of a real elimination fight because Godfrey has been denied admission to the tournaments conducted by Tex Rickard to develop heavyweight challengers, tonight's test nevertheless should fix Godfrey's status among his white rivals who are manouvering for the 1929 shot at the title.

The Wildcat's Meow — By Feg Murray

When Ace Hudkins the wildcat, was matched to fight Mickey Walker, the bulldog, it seemed that Chicago had snatched a most promising scrap from under Tex Rickard's nose and that New York was the loser. But you never can tell about these Chicago bouts. Mickey Walker won his title there and Tiger Flowers and the referee who handed him the decision hasn't refereed since. And Mickey straightway put his crown in cold storage except for his trip to England where he soundly knocked out Mr. Milligan of Scotland. Did Mr. Tiger Flowers get his promised return bout with Mr. Walker? He did not.

But so far only a word about Ace Hudkins the subject of today's drawing. Ace guarantees the spectators a good scrap provided his opponent shows up, which he failed to do in the case of Welterweight Champion Joe Dundee. Having seen Ace battle Sammy Baker twice and watched him "waiting at the church" while Mr. Dundee played the role of stage-struck bridegroom and having sat next to him at the ringside while that same Dundee gave the Champion Pete Latzo a nice shellacking it is my opinion that if Battling Nelson was half as tough and half as smart as Ace Hudkins is he has been much underrated.

Outside the ring Ace is a nice, quiet, likable modest kid; within the hempen walls he is a ripping, slashing, tearing, clawing wildcat and no fooling. It's only a question of how long he can keep going for sooner or later all those punches that Ace takes on his head will get him. And as for his chances against Mickey and Jack Kearns. I fear if the one doesn't get him the other will and neither does, Chicago will.

Streeter Hopes To Beat "Cents"

Somewhat Chagrined Over His Defeat In Last Game Here

LEONARD AND SANK READY FOR STREETER

Homestead Grays and the New Castle O. and P. team clash in a twilight game at Centennial field at 6:15 p. m and according to George Textor he will send "No Run, No Hit" Ketchum to the mound to oppose Streeter of the Grays who lost his last "round" here with the Slugging "Cents."

When Streeter was pounded for defeat here it was the initial defeat of the season for the colored ace and naturally he has not felt too good since the downfall. It was his own request that resulted in his being assigned to hurl this evening.

Dehigo, Cuban who plays all year long has recovered from an attack of la grippe and will be at third base. Johnny Beckwith with 31 home runs to his credit, hopes to turn in another homer by landing on one of Ketchum's offerings.

Red Leonard, McCullough and the rest of the Slugging "Cents" hope to find Streeter for a column full of base hits and as the Grays base their drawing power on victories no doubt they will try to even up with the New Castle team this evening.

Diamond Notes

Managers of the Spring Hill Sluggers, Olympics, Scioto Street Sluggers, and managers of teams under 17 years of age, are requested to call 2989W at nine p. m.

The Italian A. C. and Radiator A. C. game of the National section of the Twilight League will be played at the Radiator field on Friday night. This game was postponed earlier in the year by rain.

Walker Favored To Beat Hudkins

Mickey Walker Is Ranking Favorite To Defeat Ace Hudkins In Chicago Ring

WALKER DISPLAYS IMPROVED FORM

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

CHICAGO, June 20.—Mr. Jack Kearns, nee McKiernan, was around town today telling two stories about the Walker-Hudkins middleweight championship fight at Comiskey Park tomorrow night. This, of course, is a very poor day's work for a gent like John. Two stories, be they ever so contradictory, are only bogey on the course he plays. Five is par and I've seen days when his birdies and eagles established course records that have defied the best efforts of all raconteurs to this moment.

Anyhow, I take it from the trend of John's conversation, both on the outgoing and incoming nine, that he sincerely looks for Mickey Walker to win inside the 10-round limit.

I have reason to think this is true because, publicly, he is going out of his way to praise Hudkins. No rival manager ever does that unless he believes beyond peradventure that the other guy is in for a terrible tagging.

"Hudkins is awful tough," said Mr. Kearns today, with the air of one whose disclosures are simply astounding. "He's a great hitter and as game as they come. It ought to be the greatest fight of the year."

I also have reason to know that his private statement represents an honest conviction because he asked me not to use it.

Although George Godfrey, the Leiperville terror, is the favorite, Johnny Risko is confident of winning tonight at Brooklyn.

Terry McManus, who boxes Young Denvy, Midland, at the Jolly Bowl Monday, has arrived here from Pittsburgh and trains at Dime's.

Taylor Douthit, Cardinal's outfielder, has turned in 101 hits this season and hopes to smash Sisler's season's mark of 257.

All of the high barrier around the Jolly Bowl has been erected and dressing rooms for boxers are now being built.

Among the big city sport scribes who will cover the Levinsky-Rocco battle will be Harry Keck of the Sun-Tele, Pittsburgh.

According to officials of the Jolly Bowl, reservations are being made by women to see the bout from the reserved section.

Providing rain stops early today, the Homestead Grays and Centennials should play to a capacity twilight crowd this evening.

Pitticisms

BY BILL RITT

Old Emil, the corner barber has quit to become a wrestler. For the last 20 years he has been practicing holds on customers.

* * *

Emil was a barber of the old school which believed in never letting a man out of the chair until the beard trimmer had put his trade mark on him. Emil's sign was a deep gash back of the left ear.

* * *

As a scissors chauffeur Emil had little technique but plenty of energy. He never felt a job was done until he had trimmed the ears.

* * *

His style was often likened to Walter Hagen's. He used a clipper shot on the bald spot or fairway but always relied on his razor when he got in the rough.

Jeffries once droped into Emil's chair. A week later Jim retired undefeated heavyweight champion but thoroughly demoralized.

Customer's in Emil's hands had only one consolation. Their insurance was paid up.

The chin scraping industry lost a great character when Emil decided to do all his fighting on a mat. There will never be another like him—there couldn't be.

Athletics Face Crucial Series

Athletics Must Defeat Yanks In Present Five-Game Series To Be In Running

CARDINALS ARE SLOWLY ADVANCING

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 20.—Connie Mack's herd of white elephants is massed for an attack upon the stronghold of the league-leading Yankees today, when the first two contests of a five-game series will be played. Another double bill is scheduled for tomorrow and a single game for Friday, and if the A's can't cut into New York's 8 1-2-game lead in this series they may as well throw in the sponge.

The St. Louis Cardinals, sporting a three-game lead in the National League scramble as a result of having taken two out of three from the Reds, will open fire on the Cubs today. The home run hitting of Sunny Jim Bottomley is winning many a game for the Cards. His 15th homer of the season started St. Louis on the road to a 9 to 4 win over Cincinnati yesterday and gave him the leadership in the National League home run derby.

Old Pete Alexander was knocked out of the box, but was credited with his second victory of the series. Taylor Douthit, Cardinal outfielder, got three singles and is the first player in either league to garner 100 hits.

Thirty-three players horned into a ding-dong slugfest between the Phillies and Brooklyn. Dazz Vance was rushed to the mound cold in the ninth and was nicked by Catcher Lorian for a triple which staked the Quakers to an 11 to 10 verdict, their first victory over Brooklyn in eight starts. Fred Leach walloped two homers and Jumbo Jim Elliott, gargantuan Dodger southpaw, smacked his third fourbagger of the season.

The Red Sax passed up a chance to jump to fifth place when they took a 16 to 7 shellacking from Washington after they had trimmed the Nats in the opener, 5 to 1. Rain stopped all other scheduled games.

Elmo The Mighty Defeats Sam Brown

By ED. FRITZ

YOUNGSTOWN, June 20.—Among the preliminary fighters who made their entry into the Idora Park ring here last night was none other than Elmo the Mighty, New Castle lightheavyweight, who sent Sam Brown to the canvas four times and captured a decision in six rounds.

In the main bout Freddie Fitzgerald took a 10-round decision from Joe Trippe of New York state. Fitz proved too clever for the rugged Trippe and though the Empire battler was aggressive, he received a boxing lesson in most of the rounds.

California Crew Regatta Winner

Powerful Finish Gives California Crew Victory Over Columbia In Stirring Race

NEW RECORD HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED

(International News Service)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 20.—Some brilliant and stirring finishes have been witnessed in intercollegiate regattas here on the Hudson in the past but the University of California's powerful crew turned a new page in the annals of the regatta when it pinched out a victory last evening in the final quarter mile with a sustained sprint which beat down a valiant Columbia eight, fighting desperately to retain the inter-collegiate crown which it won but a short year ago.

For sheer strength and brute power, few crews have ever matched this year's California eight.

In crushing the hopes of the Columbia crew, California established a new record for the four-mile course, thus erasing the mark of 18:53 1-5 which Cornell established in 1901, twenty-seven years ago. California's new record for the course was 18:35 4-5, almost five full boat lengths better than the Cornell mark.

Shiek Pitches One-Hit Game

Wylie Shiek on the mound for the Central Christians last night in a church league game at the Lehigh field limited the First Baptists to one hit as the Christians took a 2 to 1 verdict.

The inability of the Baptists to hit Shiek in the pinches cost them the game. Both teams played a brilliant game in the field, turning in five double plays. Chester Dean returned to the Baptist lineup and played a fine game.

Honkonen on the mound for the Baptists was touched for six hits and fanned two men. Shiek fanned eight batters. Morgan and A. Bauman had the only extra-base hits of the game.

Braykovich on the knoll was effective in all innings and allowed but four hits, and had thirteen strikeouts. The Mahonings used Cardella and Nord on the hill with little effect. The Garlands tallied four runs in the first inning and five in the fourth to take a big lead.

An open mind is all right, but the open mouth is often worse than an open cutout.—Lafayette Journal and Courier.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

While the American league boasts the two greatest home run hitters in the game in Ruth and Gehrig, it is an odd angle of the records of the majors that the National league tops the new circuit in homers for the season to date.

Recent averages gave the older league an edge of nine or ten circuit smashes. This despite the fact that Ruth has hit more than double the number of any National league competitors.

Of course, the reason for the leadership resting with the National league is the fact that contributions to the four-base column have been a bit more general in the old league. In the American Ruth, Gehrig, Tony Lazerri of the Yanks, Zip Hauser of the Athletics and Phil Todt of the Red Sox just about comprise what could be referred to as the home run clouters. In the National, Hack Wilson, Del Bissonette, Jim Bottomley and Rogers Hornsby are staging a merry battle for the lead, and there are half a dozen others ranking but a few homers below them.

Recent averages showed that each of five National league clubs had socked a total of 22 or more home runs. In the American league only two clubs had touched that mark, the Athletics being the Yanks' only competitors.

Two very unusual home run feats have been performed to date.

Lester Bell, once with the Cardinals and now with the Boston Braves, drove out three home runs in one game on a somewhat recent afternoon. Phil Todt of the Red Sox slammed three home runs in three playing days a bit later.

Half a dozen players in both leagues have hit two home runs in a single game at some time during the season. The list includes—in the National—Wilson of the Cubs, Bottomley of the Cardinals and, oddly enough, three Giants players in O'Doul, Ott and Lindstrom.

The American league list includes, in addition to Babe and Lou, Hauser and Todt, Joe Dugan of the Yanks and Johnny Hodapp of the Cleveland Indians.

Del Bissonette is the only "freshman" in the majors to figure in these home run records—unless it be O'Doul. The latter is playing his first season with the Giants, but has been up a couple of times.

Bissonette's ability to hit big league pitching with the abandon exhibited in the minors was questioned quite generally last spring. He set up an enviable record of 21 home runs with the Buffalo club of the International league, last year. Apparently he can read major league hurling fairly well. Which ought not to make Del feel mournful. He labored a long time in the minors to get a real chance in the big top.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 20.—Tuesday's closing rally was carried into the first period of trading in the stock market today, and sharp recoveries were scored in a number of the speculative leaders, including General Motors, Steel Common, American Linseed, Atlantic Refining and New York Central. Short covering and new speculative buying at the attractive prices prevailing in the market favorites easily absorbed the offerings which had accumulated over-night, and after the first half-hour the market slowed down considerably in all departments.

General Motors recovered the bulk of yesterday's losses when the stocks advanced spiritedly to 175 in the first period.

Cast Iron Pipe jumped 13 points to 243 and Radio was up about 3 points.

The call loan renewal rate was 6 per cent with plenty of offerings at that rate.

The railroad stocks participated in the early recovery, New York Central crossing 170, against yesterday's low price of 166½, selling pressure on the industrials was renewed in the second hour, and the trend of prices was again downward.

Flower Mission Day Observed On Tuesday

Fitting Program Presented At County Home By Ladies Of Central W. C. T. U.

Ladies of Central W. C. T. U. observed Flower Mission day with fitting and appropriate program at the Lawrence county home.

The president, Mrs. Martha Ketler presided and Mrs. Jennie Forquer led the devotional hour. Several favorite hymns were sung followed by prayer by Mrs. Forquer. Mrs. Margaret Shields, county director of Flower Mission day, gave a short talk in memory of Mrs. Jennie Cassady, organizer of Flower Mission day.

Greetings were extended by Mrs. E. N. Baer, Mrs. F. S. Neigh sang very effectively "The Old Rugged Cross" accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Gallagher. Greetings were also given by Mrs. C. M. Grace, superintendent of Young People's branch. A recitation entitled "Cheerfulness" was given by Miles Kennedy of the Temperance Light Bearers.

Rev. J. L. Petrie pastor of the Grace M. E. church was the principal speaker of the afternoon. Rev. Petrie gave a very encouraging message on "Joy" taking his text from Matthew 6th chapter. He and his wife sang very beautifully "The Hand that was Wounded for Me."

The meeting closed by singing 'Blest Be the Tie That Binds.'

One hundred fifty seven bouquets and 12 potted plants were given by the union during the day.

BOY SCOUT Activities

TROOP 38

Troop 38 met Tuesday evening in the Second United Presbyterian church, with a good attendance. Billy Brenner, a former member, was welcomed back into the troop. Four boys were visitors.

It was planned to hold an outdoor meeting this week, but it is thought best to give it up because of the uncertain weather. If it does not rain, the meeting will be held out of doors next week.

George Bleasley finished his tenderfoot tests. James Marshall also passed some of the tenderfoot requirements.

After the opening exercises, games were played and then scouts tried the new fire making set which was recently acquired by the troop. The meeting was closed by repeating the Lord's prayer.

HAROLD NIMMO,
Assistant Scribe.

SCOUT BAND

The Boy Scout band will meet tonight at the Elks home. Harry Truschel, the leader, will be in charge of the meeting. All members are urged to be present as practice is very necessary. The meeting will take place at 7:30 o'clock.

In a little while now it will be too hot to cook and then people will remember owing visits to distant relatives.

Platform For Democrats Is Concern Cause

Many Democrats Are Opposed To "Wet" Platform Hinted By Leaders

SOUTHERN STATES ARE MOSTLY "DRY"

Nomination Worry Is Small Compared To Matter Of Adopting Campaign Planks

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOUSTON, Tex., June 20.—The platform which the Democrats will adopt here next week and present to the country for comparison with that adopted by the Republicans at Kansas City last week is causing the supporters of Governor Al Smith a good deal more worry than the nomination itself. The nomination, they believe, is already as certain as anything can be in politics. They are under no such illusions, however, concerning the platform.

Many Are "Dry".

The fight over the nomination, what there will be, doesn't worry them. They are confident of a nomination within two or three ballots, but the fight over the platform promises, even at this early date, to be sharper and perhaps embarrassing. The prohibition plank promises to furnish the chief bone of contention. There are quite a few southern Democrats who are resigned to Smith's nomination, but they are not resigned to the adoption of a "wet platform" or anything remotely approaching it.

On the contrary, while they may reluctantly accept the seemingly inevitable nomination of a wet candidate they are militantly determined that he will have to stand upon a dry platform.

The Republicans at Kansas City adopted a plank which for the first time since prohibition mentioned the 18th amendment by name. The dry Democrats are already insisting that the Democrats in Houston can certainly do no less, and some of them are wanting to go even further than the Republicans.

The Smith people do not want anything of this sort to happen. Governor Smith has repeatedly stated his opposition to the 18th amendment and to the Volstead law and his supporters contend that to compel him to go to the country on any platform that endorses specifically the legislation that he has denounced would place him in an untenable and embarrassing position. They want a general law enforcement plank, but they are disturbed over the threats of some of the more radical drys to insist upon a plank which would commit the party and its nominee to belief and support of the "moral righteousness of prohibition."

In this situation a good deal of attention is being given to the section of the chairman of the platform committee. The name most frequently heard is that of John W. Davis, the party's nominee in 1924. Davis is a delegate-at-large from New York, and consequently is a Smith supporter. He appears to be acceptable to both the wets and drys, and it would cause no surprise were his selection agreed upon in advance of the convention.

REMUS IS NOT YET RELEASED

Some Delay To Occur In Carrying Out Order Of Ohio Supreme Court

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., June 20.—The finding of the State Supreme court ordering the immediate release of George Remus from the Lima State hospital for the criminally insane, does not imply that Remus will be released today, it was declared by the clerk of the Supreme court here today.

The mandate of the Supreme court will be mailed to the Allen county Appellate court a week from today for that court's consideration.

As the Appellate court is the lower tribunal, and had already declared Remus sane, it is thought that Remus will be released immediately upon the receipt of the mandate.

Verdict Not Guilty But Pay Costs In J. L. Rhodes Case

In the case of the commonwealth against J. L. Rhodes, of Ohio, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty but pay the costs. It was claimed that Rhodes had run into another car on the New Castle-New Bedford road, and that the accident was due to Rhode's condition. He denied that he was intoxicated. The jury retired yesterday afternoon and were out until midnight when an agreement was reached. The verdict was sealed and delivered to Judge Chambers when court convened this morning.

Graft Exposer Dies At Chester

(International News Service)

CHESTER, Pa., June 20.—Funeral arrangements for William H. Berry, 75, former state treasurer and one-time democratic candidate for governor who died in his home here last night following two weeks illness are being made today.

Berry gained nation-wide prominence through his exposure of alleged graft in the building of the new capitol at Harrisburg. He charged the state was defrauded of $5,000,000.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

You can well afford to take a visit up to the Almira Home some afternoon. Whether or not you know any of the guests up there it's well worth your while. There isn't anything else quite like it in this part of Pennsylvania and a trip up there may surprise you.

There aren't any young ladies among the guests, if you are thinking of age. Most of them admit to 70, 75, 80 and up to 90 years of age but you may be surprised at the keeness of some of them.

Seldom do they get out into the city but through the medium of the newspaper they keep in touch with things and having the time they do, they read a paper through from front to back.

The rooms are clean and comfortable, the guests are well fed, and over the whole building there is an air of comfort that is most pleasing.

June 29 is the big day this year for the alumni of New Castle high school. Every year there is a picnic and this year brings June 29 as the day. The committee in charge wants to make this one of the biggest days it has ever held in Cascade Park, and if every alumnis who is able to would attend the picnic, the crowd would be enormous. All out, class of '09.

And speaking of times and times, tonight is the night for the Caliphs and their ladies. The Caliphs of Bagdad, to give it the full name. A free show, a lunch and a dance, all for the price of a breath of fresh air, which is nothing. Rather imagine the crowd will be close to capacity.

The much sung roses of June seem to be taking a count from two other flowers in recent years. The peony and the iris are both climbing in popular favor and some of the poems and songs will have to be revised a bit.

This year seems particularly propitious for both peony and iris. Large colorful blooms can be seem on peony bushes, while the stately iris with its multicolored blooms stands out like a rainbow in a stormy sky.

There isn't anything much more beautiful than a peony. There couldn't be. Roses are lovely of course, and yet a peony contains all of the loveliness of the rose, as much odor and usually is about twice as large.

There is this to think about. It's hard to rhyme anything with peony. Imagine that song "Moonlight and Roses" if it was sung "Moonlight and Peonies." Or "Moonlight and Iris". Or say "Moonlight and Delphinium". Just can't be done. So for the time at least, the rose will probably retain its popular appeal as a vehicle of expressing moonish thoughts and lovely sentiments.

Spray Painting

The surest and best way to fill up the pores and crevices and cracks in old surfaces thoroughly is to spray. It has been thoroughly demonstrated that spray painting applied under a heavy pressure of air on dwellings, stores, churches, factories and farm buildings lasts much longer than paint applied by any other process, and costs less.

For estimates on painting by spray gun or brush call Mr. Marley, 2380W. Adv. 1t*

Nothing changes. Egyptian tomb paintings show doctors at work. The hieroglyphic denoting a physician is the bird that says "Quack."

Houston Session Will Seem Queer Without Bryan

(International News Service)

HOUSTON, Tex., June 20.—The Democratic national convention which opens here Tuesday will be the first in more than a quarter of a century in which the voice and influence of William Jennigs Bryan will not have a dominant part.

Always it was Bryan who rode forth the white horse of opposition to do battle with the 'wets,' the "Tammany crowd" and with "Wall street." Always it was Bryan, the flaming evangelist who furnished the fire and usually the shrewd calculating generalship that threw back the "northern crowd."
